TWO CENTS

A DISGRACEFUL SCENE YESTERDAY

Two Men and a Woman Made a Show of Themselves on Second Street.

WOMAN USED AN UMBRELLA

She Beat Both Men With It and Then Chased Them Down the Street.

PARTIES HAD BEEN DRINKING

Two men and a woman emerged from a notorious joint on Second street yesterday at about 3 o'clock, and from their actions they were considerably the worse for booze. Besides this they didn't seem to be agreeing well, and very soon after leaving the dive the woman, who carried an umbrella, became furious and made at one of the men, while the other one ran. She landed fast and furious on the fellow's head and shoulders with the umbrella. He couldn't stand this, and he too started to run. The whole party ran out Second street to the residence of J. H. Simms, when the pursued concluded to change his course. He turned about and returned as far as Market street and went up that thoroughfare at a rapid pace. The first man was out of sight up the hill in a very short time, but the other fellow didn't get on so well and was thumped all the way up the street. He finally got away and the woman returned to the saloon. The umbrella was torn in shreds and her hair was hanging down her back in a disheveled mass.

The affair was witnessed by a large crowd of interested spectators. It is said the crowd came from Pittsburg several days ago and have been drinking ever since.

THIRTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

Rev. J. G. Reinartz And His Wife Were Very Agreeably Surprised Last Night.

While the returns of the religious census were being looked over by the ministers of the city, Rev. Reinartz was hastily called home. When he arrived at the parsonage he found a large assembly of members and friends gathered there to remind him and his wife that it was the thirteenth anniversary of their marriage. The surprise was a complete one, and after spending a happy evening the friends departed, leaving behind many substantial expressions of their good will towards the pastor and his family.

IN SOCIETY.

MISS SARAH AND WALLACE HALL ENTERTAINED.

Their Home Last Evening Was the Scene of a Very Pleasant Society Event.

Miss Sarah and Miss Wallace Hall last evening at their home on Kosuth street entertained friends at 6 o'clock dinner.

The affair was one of the most pleasant and elaborate society events ever given in the city and the arrangements were perfect.

Guests to the number of 35 were present and upon being received were presented with beautifully and daintily hand painted souvenirs which bore the number of their partner for dinner. Nine tables had been prepared, and after each course, at the sound of the bell, the gentlemen would move to the next table, and as nine courses were served it brought them back to their original places. The dinner was very elaborate and could not have been more tastefully served, as it gave all the guests a chance to mingle with each other. The dining room presented a very handsome appearance.

Each guest had been requested to send their acceptance in verse, and after the dinner was served, the guests were presented with cards while Miss Ella Huston read the verses and the guests were to guess who the author was. All of the verses were very good and evoked much laughter.

The first prize was a very pretty picture, while the "booby" prize was certainly unique. It consisted of a small head of cabbage with the center hollowed out and filled with small licorice "nigger babies" and the head tied back on. It went to Attorney R. G. Thompson.

There was not a guest present that did not thoroughly enjoy the evening, and the affair will long be remembered by all.

ONE VICTIM.

Harry Haden And William Boyd Had a Fight Last Night.

Harry Haden was the only victim to fall into the hands of the police last night.

He was drunk and engaged in an altercation with William Boyd, the bartender at the National House. Officers Davidson and Aufderheide arrived on the scene in time to prevent a disastrous battle, and Haden was conveyed to the city jail. He has not yet been given a hearing.

FIFTY BASKETS.

A Large Batch of Ware Was Sent to Pittsburg This Morning on the Market Car.

The early east bound train due here at 8:03 was delayed 20 minutes by a freight on the river division this morning. When the train arrived at the station there were 50 baskets of ware to be loaded on the market car and this caused another delay of 15 minutes. There were many complaints from the passengers.

YOU SHOULD GET A COPY OF THE BOOK

At the Same Time You Will Be Contributing to Galveston Relief Fund.

HAS OVER ONE HUNDRED PAGES

"Picturesque Galveston" Was on Press at the Time the Awful Storm Occurred.

IT WILL ONLY COST YOU $2

Those who have not contributed to the Galveston relief fund now have an opportunity to do so and at the same time receive a copy of "Picturesque Galveston" that is well worth the price asked for it.

The following communication explains itself:

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 20, 1900.

Dear Sir—At the time of the storm, Sept. 8, we had in press a very handsome publication entitled "Picturesque Galveston." It is a book of something over a hundred pages, printed on 80-pound coated paper, filled with views of this, one of the most beautiful cities in the world. It was to have been issued this week by the business men of Galveston as a souvenir advertisement of the city. We find that possibly one-half of the edition can be saved and we are now binding those copies and will have them ready for delivery very shortly.

We have tendered the profits of this publication to the Galveston relief committee and under their auspices the book will be sold to the general public at $2 a volume. The book is one of the handsomest things that has ever come from the printing press, and is a souvenir of Galveston of the day before the storm. As a record of what the city was and as a prophecy of what the city will be when restored, this volume is well worth the money, as it is the only thing of record in that line. Besides, purchasers will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are contributing to the relief of thousands who were left homeless and destitute by the hurricane.

We beg to request that you will at once in your columns advertise this volume and receive orders for the book, forwarding the same to us with the money at the rate of $2 a volume. We feel that we may appeal to you in a fraternal spirit and that you can safely guarantee to purchasers full value for their money.

We will be able to save, perhaps, 3,000 or 4,000 volumes. Of course, the first orders received will be the first orders filled. Orders received after the edition is exhausted will be returned with the cash.

May I not personally appeal to you in behalf of humanity to push this little enterprise in your columns? For yourself alone, you will find the book a satisfactory investment. Possibly you can get your business organizations to take a few copies, and certainly many people of artistic taste in your city will be glad to have a volume. I can assure you upon honor that they will not be disappointed.

Address all orders and make checks payable to the Galveston Tribune. Begging your early attention, I am,

Yours very truly,

Three of Our Mail Carriers Have Been Doing Duty for Uncle Sam.

As mail carriers, we have veterans in the service; veterans of the late war and veterans in their special length of service in the postoffice department. A. Swaney, David Jessup and P. F. McCloskey have now been in Uncle Sam's service for a period of 11 years, and have done faithful and effective duty. They have traveled many thousands of miles and handled many tons weight of mail matter. In bulk, had they now in their possession all the letters and papers delivered by them to citizens of East Liverpool, they could boast of owning a mountain of reading matter, behind which a small army could take safe refuge against an enemy. We wish our comrades long life, happiness and prosperity.

FUNNY VIEWS.

The Report is That a Local Artist is Taking Them on the Very Spot.

There appeared yesterday, in a local sheet, a picture entitled "View of East Liverpool from Pleasant Heights." It is a peculiar picture, and the peculiarities are very peculiar. It is also a valuable picture, and a good picture to keep always on hand around and about a printing office, as it will come in play in almost any emergency, from the Galveston horror to the last terrific battle in China. The special artist has reason to be proud of his peculiar ability.

A FULL WARNING TO LABOR

Hard Common Sense Will Compel
the Workingmen of the Nation
to Dread Bryan.

READ THIS VERY CAREFULLY

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 6, 1900.
In 1896 Mr. Bryan, the Populist candidate for president in the present campaign, asserted from every stump upon which he stood to proclaim the manifold heresies of the Chicago platform, that until this country had the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1 there would be no prosperity for the laboring man, the merchant and the farmer.

With the gold standard continued, he declared, the United States would experience all the miseries and woes of stagnant business depression, a scarcity of money, and subsequent hard times.

He said that under the gold standard wages would decline, while the price of all the necessities of life would increase.

Three years of unexampled prosperity under the administration of President McKinley have completely annihilated all the theories of the Nebraska candidate.

The political economy of Mr. Bryan has not stood the test of time. It would be easy to multiply examples of the fallacy of his teaching.

After the people had refused to accept Mr. Bryan's theories of finance he made a trip into Mexico in order to study the financial conditions of that country, which has the free and unlimited coinage of silver. Mr. Bryan found the Republic of Mexico fairly prosperous in spite of the disadvantages of free silver, and dollars worth 48 cents. He found that Mexico's great and undeveloped resources were being exploited, not by Mexicans who had made fortunes in their own free silver country, but by foreigners—Americans, Englishmen, Germans—who were changing one gold standard dollar into two Mexican dollars and using the money to develop the kind of industries that sold their output in gold standard countries. He found, if he looked carefully about him, that the employes of labor in Mexico were paying that labor in 48-cent dollars, and selling their products in gold standard countries for dollars worth 100 cents.

That is a good thing for the manufacturer—the capitalist—but how does it operate for the benefit of the people?

The late Mr. Romero, Mexico's ambassador to the United States, printed the following in a book in 1898:

"Day laborers in the country (Mexico) get from 19 to 50 cents a day. In some instances 10 to 15 cents a day is allowed to cover cost of meals. The average laborer will live well and in good strength on from 10 to 15 cents a day, and will support his family on from 10 to 20 cents a day. Of course he will have his little patch of corn, beans and chiles planted near his hut, which is the largest part of his bill of fare three times a day, and for 365 days in the year. Five or ten dollars per year will clothe him, except perhaps his hat, and for that he will, if he can get the money, pay from five to twenty dollars."

The above quotations are Mexican money, of which a dollar is worth 48

cents. It will be seen that the laborer actually gets from 9 to 24 cents a day for his labor, that he supports his family on from five to ten cents a day, and that two and a half to five dollars a year buys all his clothes.

Brakemen on trains in free silver Mexico get from $35 to $75 a month; bricklayers get $1 to $1 50 a day; street car conductors get 50 cents to $1 a day; laborers in large cities get from 35 to 65 cents a day, and in the country considerably less; laborers in factories working 11 hours get from 50 cents to $1 a day; skilled miners get $1 to $1 50, and unskilled miners 50 to 80 cents a day; policemen are paid $30 to $50 a month; stone masons get $1 to $1 50 a day; tailors get $1 00 to $1 50 a day, and printers $7 and $8 a week.

All the above prices for labor are in Mexican money, and are taken from official sources of a kind not to be disputed. These prices should be compared to the wages paid in the United States. The agricultural laborer who speaks of the beneficial blessings of free silver should pause to consider the condition of the agricultural laborer in Mexico, who gets from 8 to 24 cents a day—and he should think, at the same time, of the demand for harvest hands in the western states, where two, three and even four dollars per day in gold are not infrequently paid. The American miner, earning from $1 50 to $7 a day, in gold, should think of the miners in free silver Mexico, that get from 50 cents to $1 50 a day in Mexican money, or 25 cents to 75 cents a day in the good money that is paid to labor in the United States by virtue of the success of the principles of sound money, and the Republican party.

In view of the fact that Mr. Bryan has said free silver would increase wages while cheapening the cost of living, it would be well to compare the prices paid for necessities in Mexico in Mexican money, with prices prevailing in the United States in gold standard money.

At El Paso, Texas, the American laborer buys bacon at 11 cents and ham at 15 cents a pound, while across the line in Mexico the Mexican pays 30 cents a pound for bacon and 35 cents a pound for ham. In El Paso salt sells for little more than 1 cent a pound, in Mexico for a little less than 7 cents. Molasses sell at El Paso for 55 cents a gallon, and in Mexico for $2 50 a gallon. Candles sell for $4 a hundred in El Paso, and $9 a hundred in Mexico. Sugar selling for 6 cents a pound at El Paso sells for 15 cents a pound across the line in Mexico. In El Paso flour is bought at $2 15 a hundred pounds, and in Mexico at $5 a hundred pounds. Condensed milk is $3 50 a case in El Paso, and $12 a case in Mexico. Crackers are 7 cents a pound in El Paso and 20 cents in Mexico. Butter is 23 cents and 25 cents a pound in El Paso, and 75 cents in Mexico, etc., etc.

It is scarcely possible to believe that any sane American would deliberately vote to Mexicanize the money and labor of the United States—that he would vote to cut the purchasing power of the dollar he earns to 48 cents, and at the same time witness the inevitable rise in prices of the necessities of life that logically follows the advent of cheaper money.

The gold standard is as much or more in evidence today than four years ago when the Populist candidate, with well studied stage effect, declared that the crown of thorns was pressing down on labor's brow, and the cross of gold was ready for the crucifixion of mankind.

Four years of the gold standard and four years of prosperity for every class of the people have been insufficient to effectually silence the free silver cry. The twin bogies of imperialism and militarism will not effectively divert the attention of the people from the real and only danger—the free coinage of silver and the subsequent demoralization and panic that would follow.

THE S. G. HARD CO. THE BIG STORE CASH OR CREDIT

The Kansas City platform not only reaffirms the Chicago platform, but specifically declared for 16 to 1.

If Mr. Bryan and his followers are sincere, their support of 16 to 1 is as important as in 1896, and their obligation to enact free coinage measures as great as it would have been had Mr. Bryan been elected at that time.

To cheapen our money, to cut our dollar in two, and thus Mexicanize our laborers, while raising the prices of the necessities of life, is the only serious thing that today confronts the American people. That they will decide the matter now as they did four years ago there can be no doubt.

But at the same time the menace of Bryanism is in the land, and it is even more dangerous than before.

Disguised behind the straw dummies of militarism and imperialism is the real, the true danger.

Wearing the cloak of dangerous demagoguery the Populist candidate goes about in the land proclaiming evils that do not exist with the purpose of perpetuating upon the country, if elected, the greatest evil that could befall it.

But the people know Mr. Bryan, and they know him well.

His voice is pleasing, like the voice of Jacob, but his hand is the hand of Esau.

What This East Liverpool Citizen Says Only Corroborates the Story of Thousands.

The particulars related by this representative citizen of East Liverpool are similar to hundreds of others in this city. When there are scores of people, all anxious to tell about the benefits received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills are greatest skeptic in East Liverpool must be convinced. Read this:

Mr. G. H. Garner, the well known manufacturer of ice cream at 168 Jackson street, says: "My trouble set in with a soreness and stiffness over my whole body; my appetite was poor and I was annoyed a good deal with a bloating at the stomach. There was also a urinary difficulty, and I felt, generally used up. I tried two or three different remedies, but they did not do me the least good. Having heard Doan's Kidney Pills so highly spoken of, I made up my mind to try them and I procured a box at W. & W. pharmacy. I did not take over half of it before I was entirely free from any trouble, my appetite good and my old time vigor restored. I recommended them to many of my friends, among them P. J. Green, V. S., and they all speak of them in the highest terms."

Health and Beauty

For generations women have been taught that "beauty is only skin deep," but, like many proverbs, that will not stand. Beauty is blood deep. There can be no beauty without health. Our grandmothers lived closer to nature than we do, and they were so sheltered by their home life that health and beauty were theirs naturally. Skin foods, freckle lotions and face bleaches were unknown commodities. But there has been a great change in the life of women since then. With broader education and larger opportunities, she has developed mentally at the expense of her health. From the quiet duties of home she has gone forth until now we find her in many avocations of life, which prove too great a tax on her vitality. How sad it is to see the cheek robbed of its color and the eye of its fire. These symptoms nearly always show derangements in the delicate feminine organism. They don't call for bleaches or paints or powders, but for a remedy that will make the afflicted organs strong and well. Wine of Cardui is just such a remedy. Women broken in health and spirit have been made healthy and happy by this Wine. No one should give up to the "blues" until this reliable remedy has been tried. It has proven a blessing to other women and will not disappoint you. It brings that buoyancy of spirit, elasticity of step and lightness of heart which is the corner stone of beauty. A healthy woman is always beautiful.

I feel that I must say a few words in praise of the Ladies' greatest friend, Wine of Cardui. It is the most wonderful remedy that I ever tried. I have been a sufferer for years, at times being confined to my bed two or three days each month. A friend recommended Wine of Cardui, and since I have taken it I have been greatly relieved. I intend to continue to take it, for I know it is as recommended. I will use every effort to get others to use it. Mrs. MARY E. COOLEY.

Five or ten dollars per year will clothe him, except perhaps his hat, and for that he will, if he can get the money, pay from five to twenty dollars."

The above quotations are Mexican money, of which a dollar is worth 48

cents. It will be seen that the laborer actually gets from 9 to 24 cents a day for his labor, that he supports his family on from five to ten cents a day, and that two and a half to five dollars a year buys all his clothes.

Brakemen on trains in free silver Mexico get from $35 to $75 a month; bricklayers get $1 to $1 50 a day; street car conductors get 50 cents to $1 a day; laborers in large cities get from 35 to 65 cents a day, and in the country considerably less; laborers in factories working 11 hours get from 50 cents to $1 a day; skilled miners get $1 to $1 50, and unskilled miners 50 to 80 cents a day; policemen are paid $30 to $50 a month; stone masons get $1 to $1 50 a day; tailors get $1 00 to $1 50 a day, and printers $7 and $8 a week.

All the above prices for labor are in Mexican money, and are taken from official sources of a kind not to be disputed. These prices should be compared to the wages paid in the United States. The agricultural laborer who speaks of the beneficial blessings of free silver should pause to consider the condition of the agricultural laborer in Mexico, who gets from 8 to 24 cents a day—and he should think, at the same time, of the demand for harvest hands in the western states, where two, three and even four dollars per day in gold are not infrequently paid. The American miner, earning from $1 50 to $7 a day, in gold, should think of the miners in free silver Mexico, that get from 50 cents to $1 50 a day in Mexican money, or 25 cents to 75 cents a day in the good money that is paid to labor in the United States by virtue of the success of the principles of sound money, and the Republican party.

In view of the fact that Mr. Bryan has said free silver would increase wages while cheapening the cost of living, it would be well to compare the prices paid for necessities in Mexico in Mexican money, with prices prevailing in the United States in gold standard money.

At El Paso, Texas, the American laborer buys bacon at 11 cents and ham at 15 cents a pound, while across the line in Mexico the Mexican pays 30 cents a pound for bacon and 35 cents a pound for ham. In El Paso salt sells for little more than 1 cent a pound, in Mexico for a little less than 7 cents. Molasses sell at El Paso for 55 cents a gallon, and in Mexico for $2 50 a gallon. Candles sell for $4 a hundred in El Paso, and $9 a hundred in Mexico. Sugar selling for 6 cents a pound at El Paso sells for 15 cents a pound across the line in Mexico. In El Paso flour is bought at $2 15 a hundred pounds, and in Mexico at $5 a hundred pounds. Condensed milk is $3 50 a case in El Paso, and $12 a case in Mexico. Crackers are 7 cents a pound in El Paso and 20 cents in Mexico. Butter is 23 cents and 25 cents a pound in El Paso, and 75 cents in Mexico, etc., etc.

It is scarcely possible to believe that any sane American would deliberately vote to Mexicanize the money and labor of the United States—that he would vote to cut the purchasing power of the dollar he earns to 48 cents, and at the same time witness the inevitable rise in prices of the necessities of life that logically follows the advent of cheaper money.

The gold standard is as much or more in evidence today than four years ago when the Populist candidate, with well studied stage effect, declared that the crown of thorns was pressing down on labor's brow, and the cross of gold was ready for the crucifixion of mankind.

Four years of the gold standard and four years of prosperity for every class of the people have been insufficient to effectually silence the free silver cry. The twin bogies of imperialism and militarism will not effectively divert the attention of the people from the real and only danger—the free coinage of silver and the subsequent demoralization and panic that would follow.

The Kansas City platform not only reaffirms the Chicago platform, but specifically declared for 16 to 1.

If Mr. Bryan and his followers are sincere, their support of 16 to 1 is as important as in 1896, and their obligation to enact free coinage measures as great as it would have been had Mr. Bryan been elected at that time.

To cheapen our money, to cut our dollar in two, and thus Mexicanize our laborers, while raising the prices of the necessities of life, is the only serious thing that today confronts the American people. That they will decide the matter now as they did four years ago there can be no doubt.

But at the same time the menace of Bryanism is in the land, and it is even more dangerous than before.

Disguised behind the straw dummies of militarism and imperialism is the real, the true danger.

Wearing the cloak of dangerous demagoguery the Populist candidate goes about in the land proclaiming evils that do not exist with the purpose of perpetuating upon the country, if elected, the greatest evil that could befall it.

But the people know Mr. Bryan, and they know him well.

His voice is pleasing, like the voice of Jacob, but his hand is the hand of Esau.

A WAY THEY HAVE.

What This East Liverpool Citizen Says Only Corroborates the Story of Thousands.

The particulars related by this representative citizen of East Liverpool are similar to hundreds of others in this city. When there are scores of people, all anxious to tell about the benefits received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills are greatest skeptic in East Liverpool must be convinced. Read this:

Mr. G. H. Garner, the well known manufacturer of ice cream at 168 Jackson street, says: "My trouble set in with a soreness and stiffness over my whole body; my appetite was poor and I was annoyed a good deal with a bloating at the stomach. There was also a urinary difficulty, and I felt, generally used up. I tried two or three different remedies, but they did not do me the least good. Having heard Doan's Kidney Pills so highly spoken of, I made up my mind to try them and I procured a box at W. & W. pharmacy. I did not take over half of it before I was entirely free from any trouble, my appetite good and my old time vigor restored. I recommended them to many of my friends, among them P. J. Green, V. S., and they all speak of them in the highest terms."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Health and Beauty

For generations women have been taught that "beauty is only skin deep," but, like many proverbs, that will not stand. Beauty is blood deep. There can be no beauty without health. Our grandmothers lived closer to nature than we do, and they were so sheltered by their home life that health and beauty were theirs naturally. Skin foods, freckle lotions and face bleaches were unknown commodities. But there has been a great change in the life of women since then. With broader education and larger opportunities, she has developed mentally at the expense of her health. From the quiet duties of home she has gone forth until now we find her in many avocations of life, which prove too great a tax on her vitality. How sad it is to see the cheek robbed of its color and the eye of its fire. These symptoms nearly always show derangements in the delicate feminine organism. They don't call for bleaches or paints or powders, but for a remedy that will make the afflicted organs strong and well. Wine of Cardui is just such a remedy. Women broken in health and spirit have been made healthy and happy by this Wine. No one should give up to the "blues" until this reliable remedy has been tried. It has proven a blessing to other women and will not disappoint you. It brings that buoyancy of spirit, elasticity of step and lightness of heart which is the corner stone of beauty. A healthy woman is always beautiful.

Westville, February 4, 1899.
I feel that I must say a few words in praise of the Ladies' greatest friend, Wine of Cardui. It is the most wonderful remedy that I ever tried. I have been a sufferer for years, at times being confined to my bed two or three days each month. A friend recommended Wine of Cardui, and since I have taken it I have been greatly relieved. I intend to continue to take it, for I know it is as recommended. I will use every effort to get others to use it.

A Woman's Face

Tells its own story. A laugh is often a lie on a woman's lips. It belies the pain which is tearing at the nerves. But the eyes have no part in the laugh. Their purple rings speak of suffering. There are lines too about the mouth which only pain can give. Many women look forward to a week of such misery each month. Three months of each year are given up to suffering. It weakens them. It ages them. It robs them of social pleasures and family joys. Can there be any excuse for such women who fail to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription? It has cured thousands of such sufferers. Cured them perfectly and permanently. It cures ninety-eight out of every hundred who give it a fair and faithful trial. It's sure to help. It's almost sure to cure.

"I had falling of internal organs and had to go to bed every month; had irregular monthly periods which would sometimes last ten or twelve days," writes Mrs. Alice L. Holmes, of Coaling Street, Uniontown, Pa. "Had indigestion so bad that I could not eat anything hardly. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me."

Free. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-bound book or 31 stamps for cloth binding to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Woman's Face

Tells its own story. A laugh is often a lie on a woman's lips. It belies the pain which is tearing at the nerves. But the eyes have no part in the laugh. Their purple rings speak of suffering. There are lines too about the mouth which only pain can give. Many women look forward to a week of such misery each month. Three months of each year are given up to suffering. It weakens them. It ages them. It robs them of social pleasures and family joys. Can there be any excuse for such women who fail to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription? It has cured thousands of such sufferers. Cured them perfectly and permanently. It cures ninety-eight out of every hundred who give it a fair and faithful trial. It's sure to help. It's almost sure to cure.

"I had falling of internal organs and had to go to bed every month; had irregular monthly periods which would sometimes last ten or twelve days," writes Mrs. Alice L. Holmes, of Coalspring Street, Uniontown, Pa. "Had indigestion so bad that I could not eat anything hard. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me."

Free. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-bound book or 31 stamps for cloth binding to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I believe him it will not be maintained in this country longer than
I am able to hold of it."

This language was used by Hon.

at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We respectfully call the attention of our agents, and the music-loving public in general, to the fact that certain parties are manufacturing and have placed upon the market a cheap piano, bearing a name so similar to our own (with a slight difference in spelling) that the purchaser may be led to believe that he is purchasing a genuine "Sohmer Piano."

We deem it our duty to those who have been favorably impressed with the fine quality and high reputation of the "Sohmer Piano" to warn them against the possibility of an imposition by unscrupulous dealers or agents. Every genuine "Sohmer Piano" has the above Trade Mark stamped upon the sounding board.

GOOD WORDS.

The News Review is very warmly commended by national, state and county Republican leaders and officials, for good work done during the present campaign. Thank you, gentlemen; we are simply doing our duty as loyal Republicans. It is not only a duty, but a genuine pleasure, as we feel that the industries of the nation at large, demand the election of William McKinley and the entire Republican ticket.

PECULIAR, IS IT NOT.

When you read, if time is not too precious, the report which appeared in a down town paper respecting D.
J. Smith's prohibition speech, you will find not one iota of the denunciations which the Prophet of Mount Pisgah hurled against the Democratic party as the party of rum and debauchery.
The "latest arrival" in their news gathering department expressed his approval audibly when D. J. scored the Republicans; but when the prophet hit the "unwashed and untutored," the fresh youngster made himself conspicuous by the dense silence which controlled him. From the standpoint of reliability, the new importation is not a flattering success.

WIDE AWAKE.

There must not be a shadow of lethargy, apathy or indifference, or a feeling of over-confidence, in the present political campaign. Every Republican should be at the polls on election day.
And every Democrat who longs for continued prosperity and who desires to handle a dollar which is worth 100 cents on the dollar, and has that purchasing power in the market, should accompany his Republican neighbor, friend, or co-worker, and each cast a vote for McKinley and Roosevelt, sound money and prosperity. Be wide awake. Republicanism needs every vote. The enemy is on the still hunt and will leave no stone unturned in the effort to win success. The silver kings, ice trusts and kindred monopolies are handing over money to the Democracy and to Bryan with a liberal hand, under promises of big returns in case Bryan is elected. Remember that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." Don't take your enemy too cheaply. This measure often results in defeat and disaster.
Turn out on election day. Work, work, work; and don't fail to vote. Ballots count.

FROM AKRON

A Correspondent to the Commoner
Writes a Very Interesting Letter.

The new white ware pottery has suspended operations in the clay shop on account of some defect making its appearance in the body of the clay, which will be rectified in a few days,
when operations will be resumed.
Thomas Clinton, the manager of this new plant, has severed his connection with the company, and general rumor has it that a member of the firm will manage.

National President A. S. Hughes was a visitor in our city for three days last week, endeavoring to arrive at an amicable understanding between the new firm and the members of the N. B. of O. P. upon some very peculiar and intricate problems arising from the attempt to use down draft kilns, and the desire to employ some stone ware potters in the manufacture of white ware, and a few other problems not generally met with in any other pottery. President Hughes' sojourn here was very pleasant, and it is hoped a very profitable one for the members of L. U. No. 30, for he certainly convinced them of some facts in existence in the trade that were known to only a few and our worthy executive's reasoning should bear fruit and enable L. U. No. 30 to grasp the new problems as they present themselves.

EXCITEMENT.

WOMAN THOUGHT SHE GOT THE
WRONG CHANGE.

The Assistant Ticket Agent at the Depot Had Trouble This Morning.

A woman was the cause of no little amusement at the passenger depot this morning. She purchased two tickets for Pittsburg and gave the assistant ticket agent, James Ryan, a five-dollar bill and received her correct change.

She then asked Mr. Ryan if he could change her a ten-dollar bill. He replied that he could and she passed him a five-dollar bill and he told her it was a five and she replied that she knew it. He gave her five one-dollar bills, and after she had counted the money demanded the other five, claiming she had given him a ten-dollar bill and would not leave the station until she got her money. On being informed that she only gave him a five-dollar bill she became excited, and, going out the rear of the depot, struck at Mr. Ryan and called him robber and thief.

She finally discovered she was in the wrong and departed on the train for Pittsburg.

TRADE IS GOOD.

The Volume of Business Shows an Increase Over That of Last September.

China, Glass and Lamps.

Trade conditions have not shown any particular change during the past week. In several instances jobbers are ordering in more liberal quantities, as their requirements demand, but mostly sufficient for nearby necessities. Purchases as a rule, are confined to moderate amounts, which from the frequency of the orders would seem to indicate a fair distribution of goods to consumers. The statement is conservatively made that with all its drawbacks last month has shown a fair percentage of increase in the volume of business over the previous September.

Though nobody is buying in large quantities or placing orders for delivery further ahead than they think they see a chance for early disposal of the goods, manufacturers find their stocks moving off with reasonable promptness and have to keep working steadily to meet the demand and keep up the regular supply of assortments. The demand for the better class of decorated wares is on the increase and more work in this line, and of a higher quality, is being done than ever before.

AN OUTSIDE VIEW.

A Trade Paper Reviews the Trouble
at the Goodwin

The Crockery and Glass Journal in speaking of the trouble at the Goodwin pottery says:

The Western Manufacturing association ordered all potteries shut down
Friday morning if the Goodwin kilnmen did not resume work at that time.
It seems this bumptious local, No. 9, played the Big Indian without any show of authority. It is the National Brotherhood, not any local, that has authority to deal with any individual pottery. Now the kilnmen that were ordered by their local to quit want pay, we understand, for their period of idleness, and No. 9, and not the Brotherhood, seems to be responsible, morally at least. Probably this local will find, after awhile, that their assumption that they can control both the manufacturers and National Brotherhood will have to be abated—that they are working their moderate brain capacity to the verge of collapse.

THE COMING DELEGATES.

The Visitors of the Cincinnati Branch of the Woman's F. M.
Society.

The first session will be held at 2 p.
m. in the M. E. church on Tuesday next, October 9. Communion service coming delegates, and the ladies extend warm thanks to those who have so generously aided them in their efforts in this particular. A very pleasant and profitable time is anticipated at this convention.

ON GOLD STANDARD.
Any one who believes that the gold standard is a good thing, or that it should be maintained, I warn him that his vote for me, because I am for it, will not be maintained in this country longer than
I am able to keep it.
This was used by Hon.
William McKinley in a speech
at Knoxville on September 16, 1896.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We respectfully call the attention of our agents, and the music-loving public in general, to the fact that certain parties are manufacturing and have placed upon the market a cheap piano, bearing a name so similar to our own (with a slight difference in spelling) that the purchaser may be led to believe that he is purchasing a genuine "Sohmer Piano."

We deem it our duty to those who have been favorably impressed with the fine quality and high reputation of the "Sohmer Piano" to warn them against the possibility of an imposition by unscrupulous dealers or agents. Every genuine "Sohmer Piano" has the above Trade Mark stamped upon the sounding board.

GOOD WORDS.

The News Review is very warmly commended by national, state and county Republican leaders and officials, for good work done during the present campaign. Thank you, gentlemen; we are simply doing our duty as loyal Republicans. It is not only a duty, but a genuine pleasure, as we feel that the industries of the nation at large, demand the election of William McKinley and the entire Republican ticket.

PECULIAR, IS IT NOT.

When you read, if time is not too precious, the report which appeared in a down town paper respecting D. J. Smith's prohibition speech, you will find not one iota of the denunciations which the Prophet of Mount Pisgah hurled against the Democratic party as the party of rum and debauchery. The "latest arrival" in their news gathering department expressed his approval audibly when D. J. scored the Republicans; but when the prophet hit the "unwashed and untutored," the fresh youngster made himself conspicuous by the dense silence which controlled him. From the standpoint of reliability, the new importation is not a flattering success.

WIDE AWAKE.

There must not be a shadow of lethargy, apathy or indifference, or a feeling of over-confidence, in the present political campaign. Every Republican should be at the polls on election day. And every Democrat who longs for continued prosperity and who desires to handle a dollar which is worth 100 cents on the dollar, and has that purchasing power in the market, should accompany his Republican neighbor, friend, or co-worker, and each cast a vote for McKinley and Roosevelt, sound money and prosperity. Be wide awake. Republicanism needs every vote. The enemy is on the still hunt and will leave no stone unturned in the effort to win success. The silver kings, ice trusts and kindred monopolies are handing over money to the Democracy and to Bryan with a liberal hand, under promises of big returns in case Bryan is elected. Remember that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." Don't take your enemy too cheaply. This measure often results in defeat and disaster. Turn out on election day. Work, work, work; and don't fail to vote. Ballots count.

FROM AKRON

A Correspondent to the Commoner
Writes a Very Interesting Letter.

The new white ware pottery has suspended operations in the clay shop on account of some defect making its appearance in the body of the clay, which will be rectified in a few days, when operations will be resumed. Thomas Clinton, the manager of this new plant, has severed his connection with the company, and general rumor has it that a member of the firm will manage.

National President A. S. Hughes was a visitor in our city for three days last week, endeavoring to arrive at an amicable understanding between the new firm and the members of the N. B. of O. P. upon some very peculiar and intricate problems arising from the attempt to use down draft kilns, and the desire to employ some stone ware potters in the manufacture of white ware, and a few other problems not generally met with in any other pottery. President Hughes' sojourn here was very pleasant, and it is hoped a very profitable one for the members of L. U. No. 30, for he certainly convinced them of some facts in existence in the trade that were known to only a few and our worthy executive's reasoning should bear fruit and enable L. U. No. 30 to grasp the new problems as they present themselves.

WOMAN THOUGHT SHE GOT THE WRONG CHANGE.

The Assistant Ticket Agent at the Depot Had Trouble This Morning.

A woman was the cause of no little amusement at the passenger depot this morning. She purchased two tickets for Pittsburg and gave the assistant ticket agent, James Ryan, a five-dollar bill and received her correct change.

She then asked Mr. Ryan if he could change her a ten-dollar bill. He replied that he could and she passed him a five-dollar bill and he told her it was a five and she replied that she knew it. He gave her five one-dollar bills, and after she had counted the money demanded the other five, claiming she had given him a ten-dollar bill and would not leave the station until she got her money. On being informed that she only gave him a five-dollar bill she became excited, and, going out the rear of the depot, struck at Mr. Ryan and called him robber and thief.

She finally discovered she was in the wrong and departed on the train for Pittsburg.

TRADE IS GOOD.

The Volume of Business Shows an Increase Over That of Last September.

China, Glass and Lamps.

Trade conditions have not shown any particular change during the past week. In several instances jobbers are ordering in more liberal quantities, as their requirements demand, but mostly sufficient for nearby necessities. Purchases as a rule, are confined to moderate amounts, which from the frequency of the orders would seem to indicate a fair distribution of goods to consumers. The statement is conservatively made that with all its drawbacks last month has shown a fair percentage of increase in the volume of business over the previous September.

Though nobody is buying in large quantities or placing orders for delivery further ahead than they think they see a chance for early disposal of the goods, manufacturers find their stocks moving off with reasonable promptness and have to keep working steadily to meet the demand and keep up the regular supply of assortments. The demand for the better class of decorated wares is on the increase and more work in this line, and of a higher quality, is being done than ever before.

AN OUTSIDE VIEW.

A Trade Paper Reviews the Trouble at the Goodwin

The Crockery and Glass Journal in speaking of the trouble at the Goodwin pottery says:

The Western Manufacturing association ordered all potteries shut down Friday morning if the Goodwin kilnmen did not resume work at that time. It seems this bumptious local, No. 9, played the Big Indian without any show of authority. It is the National Brotherhood, not any local, that has authority to deal with any individual pottery. Now the kilnmen that were ordered by their local to quit want pay, we understand, for their period of idleness, and No. 9, and not the Brotherhood, seems to be responsible, morally at least. Probably this local will find, after awhile, that their assumption that they can control both the manufacturers and National Brotherhood will have to be abated—that they are working their moderate brain capacity to the verge of collapse.

THE COMING DELEGATES.

The Visitors of the Cincinnati Branch of the Woman's F. M. Society.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

EAST END.

CAUSED TROUBLE IN THE EAST END

Three People Went to That Part of the City and Disturbed
the Residents.

CRIP CAIN WAS ARRESTED

He Shied a Stone at Fireman Ed.
Wilson but It Didn't Hit
Him.

HE USED MUCH PROFANITY

"Crip" Cain, accompanied by another man and a woman, came to East End yesterday afternoon bent on having a good time. They had been standing at the Mulberry street crossing for some time when an argument arose. After spending some time in discussing the matter they made their way up the railroad track to a point near the Laughlin pottery. Here they annoyed the residents by their profanity and loud talk, and a message was sent to Station No. 2.

Officer Hamilton and Firemen Ed Wilson responded, but when they arrived only Cain remained, the other members of the party having departed. Cain was in an ugly mood and the officers had a great deal of trouble in rounding him up. "Cup" is noted for his treachery, and when Wilson approached, threw a stone at him, which, had it hit the fireman, would undoubtedly have inflicted some severe injury. Wilson made a foot ball rush and Cain was captured. They were compelled to handle the prisoner pretty roughly before he was made to submit. "Cup" was taken to the fire station and the patrol called. While there Cain continued to abuse the officers in a shameful manner, using the vilest of language, and refusing to regard the officers' repeated requests to keep quiet.

CLOTHES WRINGER

Caused a Very Painful Injury to an East End Boy Yesterday Morning.

A three-year-old son of Howard Taylor, of Maplewood avenue, met with a very bad accident yesterday morning.

The little one's mother was engaged in washing, and had a clothes wringer fastened to a tub. The child in some manner caught its finger in the cogs of the machine and its arm was dragged into the wheel. The boy's hand is terribly mangled and it will be a long time before it recovers from the effects of the injury, if indeed it ever does.

Dr. Mowen reduced the fracture and the little one is getting on as well as possible under the circumstances.

THEY WALKED.

E. J. Owen And Dr. Mowen Waited for a Car That Didn't Come.

A few evenings ago E. J. Owen and Dr. Mowen attended the theater, and after it was out walked up to the corner of Washington and Sixth streets. Here they took a seat to wait until a car came along for East End. They discussed everything under the sun, and still that car didn't come. Street railways were declared no good, and they both wondered what kind of a wreck had taken place. At 12 o'clock they were still on that corner; 1 o'clock arrived and they were still there, but when 2 o'clock appeared they both awoke to the fact that East End cars didn't pass the corner.

If you want to know how many ties there are between East End and the city ask them.

NEW BOXES.

East End Fire Station Can Now be Called in the Regular Way.

Chief Morley and Firemen Terrence and Bettridge yesterday placed five alarm boxes at various places in the East End. Box No. 324, corner Needham street and Riley avenue; No. 326, corner of St. George street and Virginia avenue; No. 332, corner Pennsylvania and First avenues; No. 334, corner Pennsylvania and Martin avenues; No. 342, corner Pallissey street and Cleveland avenue.

The keys to the different boxes will be left at convenient places, so that no time need be lost in sending in an alarm.

The East End department has one more box to place in position, but the location has not been selected as yet.

Entertained Friends.

Miss Louisa Henneman very pleasantly entertained a large party of friends at the residence of Frank Allison, Ohio avenue on Thursday evening. Mr. Harsha furnished some fine selections on the phonograph, and that, together with various other amusements, made up a most enjoyable evening.

Should be Fixed.

Lake's run, between First avenue and Mulberry street, is a disgrace to the community and something should be done at once. A horrible stench permeates the neighborhood, especially during the afternoon and evening.

Attending a Funeral.

Oscar Weitzel, of Ohio avenue, left yesterday for Wheeling, where he will attend the funeral of his father, who died in that city on Thursday.

Secured Work Here.

Alonzo Pig, a carpenter from down the river, arrived in the city yesterday and will work at his trade in the East End.

Improving.

Miss Mina Cochran, who has been ill for some time, is improving.

Personal.

Dr. Mowen is in Smith's Ferry. John G. Greene, of Butler, Pa., is visiting his brother, Rev. J. R. Greene, Pennsylvania avenue.

Mrs. Katherine Stevens and three children left this morning for Pittsburgh, where they will visit Mrs. Stevens' brother, George Henneman.

SOUTH SIDE.

Among the Sick.

John Barkus is ill with cholera morbus.

Samuel Swearingen, who has been ill for some time, is slightly improved.

Mrs. James Lyons, who was reported ill, is improving. She was not in a dangerous condition, as was reported by a local sheet a few days ago.

Orange Jackson is in Liverpool today, where he went to take the place of his brother, who is ill.

Received a Letter.

T. T. Oaks yesterday received a letter from his mother, who lives in Berry, N. C., in answer to an inquiry made by him several days ago. Mr. Oaks has not heard from his home folks in 13 years, and had written for information concerning them.

Hearing the Case.

The case of Mrs. Adam Goppert versus her mother-in-law is being heard this afternoon before Squire Johnson at the residence of his brother, Eph Johnson. Plaintiff is suing to recover possession of a quantity of household furniture.

Ended in a Dispute.

A dispute arose in the ball game between the Independents and Coswins yesterday during the fourth inning and the game was awarded to the Coswins by a score of 9 to 0. Bert Cronin acted as umpire.

He Will Visit.

E. T. Windber, of Hanoverton, will arrive in Chester this evening, where he will visit with the family of Dr. Lewis over Sunday. Mrs. Windber has been in Chester for several days.

A New Position.

Kinsman Baso will leave Monday for Pittsburgh, where he has taken a position as motorman on one of the trolley systems in that city.

Started a Foundation.

Work was begun this morning on the foundation of a new house to be erected on Carolina avenue by E. S. Johnson.

Bought the Ice House.

The old ice house north of O. O. Allison's grocery has been rented by James Gibson and is being converted into a stable.

Visiting His Son.

Frank Barcus, of Brilliant, O., is the guest of his son in Chester. When he returns home he will be accompanied by his step-son, David Barcus.

Going East.

Thomas Bambrick will leave on Monday for a two weeks' visit in the east. He will go to Philadelphia, New York and other points.

Crawford's Moving.

William Crawford is moving into the building lately vacated by Morrow & Carruthers in the upper part of town.

Surveying in Chester.

Engineer James Marshall, of New Cumberland, was in Chester today doing some surveying.

He is Clerking.

Earl Woodmansee has taken a position as clerk in the Chester grocery.

Personal.

Garrett Mercer has returned from Pittsburgh.

Herbert Johnson, of East Liverpool, is the guest of Chester friends.

CAUSED TROUBLE IN THE EAST END

Three People Went to That Part of the City and Disturbed the Residents.

CRIP CAIN WAS ARRESTED

He Shied a Stone at Fireman Ed. Wilson but It Didn't Hit Him.

HE USED MUCH PROFANITY

"Crip" Cain, accompanied by another man and a woman, came to East End yesterday afternoon bent on having a good time. They had been standing at the Mulberry street crossing for some time when an argument arose. After spending some time in discussing the matter they made their way up the railroad track to a point near the Laughlin pottery. Here they annoyed the residents by their profanity and loud talk, and a message was sent to Station No. 2.

Officer Hamilton and Firemen Ed Wilson responded, but when they arrived only Cain remained, the other members of the party having departed. Cain was in an ugly mood and the officers had a great deal of trouble in rounding him up. "Cup" is noted for his treachery, and when Wilson approached, threw a stone at him, which, had it hit the fireman, would undoubtedly have inflicted some severe injury. Wilson made a foot ball rush and Cain was captured. They were compelled to handle the prisoner pretty roughly before he was made to submit. "Cup" was taken to the fire station and the patrol called. While there Cain continued to abuse the officers in a shameful manner, using the vilest of language, and refusing to regard the officers' repeated requests to keep quiet.

CLOTHES WRINGER

Caused a Very Painful Injury to an East End Boy Yesterday Morning.

A three-year-old son of Howard Taylor, of Maplewood avenue, met with a very bad accident yesterday morning.

The little one's mother was engaged in washing, and had a clothes wringer fastened to a tub. The child in some manner caught its finger in the cogs of the machine and its arm was dragged into the wheel. The boy's hand is terribly mangled and it will be a long time before it recovers from the effects of the injury, if indeed it ever does.

Dr. Mowen reduced the fracture and the little one is getting on as well as possible under the circumstances.

THEY WALKED.

E. J. Owen And Dr. Mowen Waited for a Car That Didn't Come.

A few evenings ago E. J. Owen and Dr. Mowen attended the theater, and after it was out walked up to the corner of Washington and Sixth streets. Here they took a seat to wait until a car came along for East End. They discussed everything under the sun, and still that car didn't come. Street railways were declared no good, and they both wondered what kind of a wreck had taken place. At 12 o'clock they were still on that corner; 1 o'clock arrived and they were still there, but when 2 o'clock appeared they both awoke to the fact that East End cars didn't pass the corner.

If you want to know how many ties there are between East End and the city ask them.

STRIKE CRISIS NEAR.

Up to President Mitchell For a Decision.

HE IS OPPOSED BY HIS ADVISERS.

They Don't Want the Ten Per Cent Offer Accepted, While the President Favors Taking It, and Working For More Concessions Later On.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 6.—The crisis in the coal miners strike is approaching. Both sides are playing a waiting game and each imagine that it has the winning card up its sleeve.

The statement of President Maxwell, of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, that the companies have made all the concessions they propose to make, bears out the statement that the companies would not offer any additional inducements for the men to return to work. The report from Scranton is also significant. It is said that the individual operators will all fall in line and give their employees the 10 per cent increase granted by the big companies. A well known operator said that there was an understanding at the meeting of the representatives of the big companies and the individual operators in this city last Tuesday. According to the understanding the notices of increase were not to be posted all at the same time, but gradually. This part of the program has now been carried out. The companies and nearly all the operators are now in line for a 10 per cent increase.

It is now up with President Mitchell to decide what he is going to do in the matter. If he delays action, with the idea in view that the operators will make a better offer, he is liable to delay a settlement of the strike indefinitely. An analysis of the 10 per cent increase offered shows that the average miner's wages would not be increased 10 per cent should he return to work, but it is argued that it is better than nothing; that it is a victory after all for the strikers; that it is the entering wedge, and that if the United Mine Workers keep their organization intact, they can compel the operators to make further concessions in the years to come.

It is said that President Mitchell takes this same view of the situation himself. And it is only natural that he should. If the strikers accept the offer of 10 per cent increase, then it is a victory for Mitchell. If they do not accept it and the strike is fought to a finish and the men beaten in the end, it will be a defeat for the leader of the miners. It is known, however, that some of President Mitchell's advisers are against settlement on the 10 per cent basis. They argue that the companies will do better. But Mitchell says nay. It now remains to be seen who will win, Mitchell or his cabinet.

Hazleton, Oct. 6.—A Pardee & company, operating the Cranberry and the Crystal Ridge mines and employing about 1,000 men, posted a notice at its collieries of an advance of 10 per cent in wages. The notice reads:

"This company makes the following announcement to its mine employees:

"It will adjust its rate of wages so as to pay to its mine employees on and after October 1, and until further notice, a net increase of 10 per cent on the wages heretofore received.

Note—It is understood in the foregoing that powder will be sold to miners for $1.50 per keg and that the difference between this rate and the old rate of $2.75 shall be taken into account in figuring the net advance of 10 per cent noted above for this class of work.

(Signed)

"A. Pardee & Company."

This is the first individual operator in the Lehigh region that has granted this advance and it is believed to indicate that all of the individual operators have agreed to pay the advance.

A meeting was held in Pardee's office of the general superintendents of all the individual collieries in this region. It is not known what action was taken, but it is believed they discussed the question of posting similar notices at all collieries.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 6.—According to statement of President T. H. Watson of the committee which went to work to demand better tolls for individual operators, the latter will, in agreement with the big companies in the Lehigh region, give the 10 per cent increase which it is hoped to end the strike.

An announcement was made at the coal miners meeting of the individual operators held in two sections at Hazleton, Pa., in this city, and in Wilkesbarre, Lackawanna and Wyoming counties, met in Mr. Watkins' office. The meeting was to support of the committee on wages. It has been able to do in the way of making concessions from the carrying companies. Mr. Watkins, R. G. Brooks and M. S. Kemmerer reported to the Scranton meeting. Dr. Howe and Mr. Pardee reported at Hazleton.

There were present at the Scranton meeting representatives of nearly all the mining companies concerned in the two valleys.

The Delaware and Hudson, Pennsylvania and New York, Ontario and Western coal departments were not represented. They have declared though that they would fall in line if the others was accepted. E. L. Fuller, Fuller Coal company, said he did not know whether or not he would post the notices, but supposed he would join in the offer if it was accepted.

What impelled the individual operators to call off their revolt was not given out. Mr. Watkins said the committee had not secured any concessions from the carriers, but he left it to be inferred that he was advised in a roundabout way that the individual operators would not be made to suffer from being called upon to grant increased wages, to help the big companies settle the strike.

DISPOSES OF MILLIONS.

Will of A. M. Byers Ailed For Probate. Requests to Wife and Children and Relatives.

Pittsburg, Oct. 6.—The will of the late Alexander M. Byers was filed for probate by Attorney D. T. Watson. The actual value of the estate is not estimated in the application for letters of administration. The bond is for $2,000,000, and guarantees that J. D. Lyon and Dallas C. Byers will faithfully perform their duties as administrators.

The will was made April 28, 1892, and witnessed by Attorney Watson, George P. Graver and L. H. Matthews. The testator, by his will, appointed J. D. Layng, E. M. Byers, his brother, now deceased, and Martha F. Byers, widow of the testator, executors. Owing to the death of Mr. Byers and other causes Mrs. Byers and Mr. Layng renounced their right to letters testamentary and the heirs of the estate agreed that letters of administration cum testamento annexo should issue to the persons already named.

The trustees are authorized to carry on the business of the firm of A. M. Byers & Co. as well as the individual business of the Girard Iron company until his youngest son, Frederick Byers, arrives at the age of 21. The trustees are to receive the entire income from the estate, as well as his share of the net profits of A. M. Byers & Co., and all of the profits of the Girard Iron company. The trustees are to pay in quarterly installments $50,000 every year to the wife of the testator for her maintenance and the keeping up of the home until the youngest son is of legal age.

As the sons become of age he directs that such of them as desire may be employed in some suitable capacity in the business of A. M. Byers & Co. or the Girard Iron company, their salaries until they become of age to be fixed at $5,000 yearly. Those sons who may not desire to enter the employment of one of these two concerns, when they reach legal age, are to receive the sum of $2,000 yearly. With regard to his daughter, Maud, the will states that if she is not married at the time of his death, she is to receive from the trustees her trousseau, the furnishings of her house, the sum of $25,000, and if the mother thinks it is necessary, the trustees are to increase this sum to $30,000. From the time of her marriage until the youngest son is of legal age the trustees are to pay her yearly, in quarterly installments, $10,000 for her support and maintenance, and if she thinks this is not enough, and her mother agrees with her, this sum is to be increased to $15,000.

If any of the sons marry before the legal age of the youngest, the trustees shall pay to them $10,000 for their marriage expenses and furnishings of their homes, and their salaries shall be increased to $10,000 a year, while any son not in the employ of the father's business shall have his allowance increased to $4,000.

The revenues of certain investments are left to certain relatives. It is provided that his brother, Samuel Byers, of Greenfield, Mercer county, is to receive $1,500 a year salary, if employed in any of the testators concerns, if not, he is to receive $1,000 a year.

The testator directs that should his daughter, Maud, marry and leave surviving her a husband, she may by will, whether she leaves children or not, give him not to exceed a one-fourth value of her trust estate.

A conservative estimate of the estate is said to be $5,000,000 to $7,000,000.

Condemned Great Britain's Policy.

Cape Town, Oct. 6.—The presbytery of the Dutch Reformed church, by a vote of 23 against 4, adopted a resolution strongly condemning Great Britain's policy in South Africa.

CRAZY WOMAN'S DEED

Killed Two Children; Attempted Third Life.

SHE THEN COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Child In Hospital May Die—Drove Her Husband to Train in the Morning—Sent Servants For a Drive, While She Committed Bloody Deed.

New York, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Lillian Smith, of Inwood, borough of Manhattan, while insane, shot her two children, Ethel, aged 12 years, and Theodore, aged 8 years, and then committed suicide by shooting herself. Another child lies in Fordham hospital at the point of death as the result of carbolic acid burns. Before shooting the children Mrs. Smith, with the cunning of a maniac, tried to force them to drink carbolic acid. Long brooding over the prospect of death is said to have been the cause of the woman's insanity.

Mrs. Smith was the wife of Walter M. Smith, who has been connected with the grocery house of Austin, Nichols & Co., for 21 years. Up to three weeks ago she had lived with her husband and her children in the central portion of this city, but of late she had been in poor health. It became necessary to take her to the country and Mr. Smith rented a large, old mansion formerly occupied by the late Frank Leslie, the publisher, at Inwood.

She drove her husband to the station in the morning and appeared happy and care free. She promised to meet him on his return from the city at night. It is believed that she went out in the morning after her return from the drive to the train with her husband and bought the pistol. Where and when she bought the carbolic acid is a mystery. With the pistol she bought a box of cartridges. Ten of these were missing from the box when it was found. In the pistol were found three discharged cartridges and two loaded. In the attempt to wipe out her family it is believed Mrs. Smith fired eight shots, all but two of which took effect.

During the course of the afternoon Mrs. Smith instructed her coachman, a man named Moore, to hitch up the team and take his wife, also a servant of the Smiths, for a ride on the speedway. The Moores returned and were met by Mrs. Smith at the door. The woman was only partly clothed, but she did not seem to be agitated.

"Don't come in yet," she said with a smile; "take a long ride. There is plenty of time in the afternoon."

The Moores again went away, but they did not stay long. They returned later and discovered the tragedy that had been enacted in their absence.

Mrs. Smith left two letters. One was addressed to her husband and read:

"Dear Walter—I am responsible for what has happened. I am very sorry, but can find no other way.

"Lillian."

The other letter was to her father. It was not made public.

IN JUSTICE GREEN'S MEMORY

Judge and Lawyers Paid Respects. Minute Was Spread on the Court Record.

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—The rooms of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, in the city hall, over which the late Henry D. Green, chief justice, presided for the last year, and in which he sat on the bench for nearly a score of years, were crowded by his former associates, both on the bench and in the legal fraternity, who assembled for the purpose of honoring his name and having spread upon the records of the court a testimonial expressing the high esteem in which the late chief justice had been held.

The meeting was presided over by Chief Justice McCollum. Judge Kirkpatrick, of the common pleas court, of Easton, delivered a brief eulogy and presented a minute which he asked be spread upon the records of the court.

The minute reviewed the late chief justice's career on the bench and after being read by the prothonotary was adopted and ordered spread upon the records.

Chief Justice McCollum, being the oldest member of the court and the lifelong friend of his distinguished predecessor and chief, replied to the remarks of Justice Kirkpatrick and paid a loving tribute to the memory of Chief Justice Green.

ROOSEVELT IS GETTING TIRED.

May Be Unable to Last Out Campaign, Unless Relieved.

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 6.—Governor Roosevelt, who sneaked in this city, is beginning to feel the effects of the arduous work undertaken by him at the request of the Republican campaign managers. If some relief is not afforded his physical powers, though great, and his courage undaunted, he may be unable to last to the end of the campaign. It has even now been suggested that all his eastern engagements be postponed for one week. This matter will be determined by the national committee on the arrival of Governor Roosevelt in Chicago tonight.

HURT EASTERN BUSINESS.

But Failure to Settle Strike Apparently Had No Effect West and South. The Failures.

New York, Oct. 6.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade today said in part: The anthracite coal settlement has been delayed another week, and the effect upon business in the east is more apparent, though distribution in the west and south seems no less active. Seasonable weather in the east would quickly aid matters. Prices are slightly lower in iron, wool, coal and sugar, but the produce and textile markets are firm and in all departments of business an effort by distributors to increase transactions would quickly advance prices. There is little ordering ahead in any kind of merchandise, but steel rail makers look for contracts for about 2,000,000 tons after election. Rain is needed in the south and on the North Atlantic coast, but in the southwest rains have checked cotton picking.

The most interesting financial development was the further drop of one cent in sterling exchange, completing a decline of two cents in two weeks, without any important change in our money market. At the same time London rates for discounts have strengthened materially, though the Bank of England made no change in its rate, in which an advance had been expected. Heavy foreign buying of cotton has outweighed all other influences, and there is insufficient demand for regular remittance to absorb commodity.

Most manufacturing concerns are delaying extensive production until after election, and are buying little raw material. Pig iron has declined on small orders, and was also depressed by the cut in southern freight rates. Finished material and structural lines are steady, and export buying does much to prevent dullness. Contracts for cars, bridges and plates for ship building were signed during the week, and rails were sold at $26 to domestic roads, while a small amount was taken by Italy. Sales of wool at the three chief eastern markets were 3,177,265 pounds, exceeding every week since August, but still insignificant compared with last year, and Coates Bros.' average price of 100 grades on October 1 was 19.64 cents, against 20.37 Sept. 1.

Wheat is steady. For the week Atlantic exports were 3,252,994 bushels, flour included, against 3,562,062 in 1899. After the end of September there was a decline in the price of corn for the current month's delivery, but elevator prices remained firm, and receipts for the week were only 4,840,002 bushels, against 7,679,540 last year, while Atlantic exports were 2,144,610 bushels, against 2,992,232 a year ago. Lower stocks at Chicago caused a sharp rise in prices of pork products.

Failures for the week were 208 in the United States against 134 last year, and 23 in Canada against 20 last year.

STEEL AND IRON STOCKS ACTIVE.

Stock Market Showed Effects of Professional Operations.

New York, Oct. 6.—The stock market continued to show the effects of professional operations for the advance Friday. New points of strength developed under the shifting operations of the bull party and the sustaining influence thus afforded was taken advantage of to realize in stocks which have already had their advance. Distinction was thus made even in stocks of the same group as, for instance, in the steel and iron group, where National Steel and Tin Plate, which have had their notable advance, hung back while other members of the group were pushed forward. Even Tennessee Coal, after an opening jump of 2 points under the stimulus of the surprised short covering, dragged behind the others. It was pulled up in sympathy with the general rise, but closed with a small net loss. The buying of Steel and Wire was the most conspicuous, and lifted the stock at one time 2 1/4. Directors of the company were quoted as expressing the belief that persons who sold out last spring when the radical cut was made in prices of the product are trying to buy back their stock. A number of the steel stocks saved a net gain of over a point. In the railroad list there was the same disposition manifest to take up new stocks for the advance, and those were selected for which the borrowing demand indicates that there has been a large short interest. Baltimore and Ohio, Northern Pacific, Missouri Pacific, and Burlington are in this class. There was conspicuous buying of Pennsylvania and rumors were revived, such as were heard when the vast proportions of the year's earnings first began to be understood, of an increase in the dividend rate. Gossip on the stock exchange attributed the buying to the same interests which were active in the previous movement. Some strength was shown by Sugar, People's Gas and Brooklyn Transit, in all of which dealings were large, but the tone was feverish and irregular. The market closed rather heavy and at substantial reactions from the best. Today's money market continued firm, and sterling exchange reacted while discounts were easier in London.

The bond market continues irregular on a small volume of dealings. Total sales, par value, $1,130,000.

United States bonds unchanged on the late call.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Wheat was irregular Friday, but turned firm toward the end on good cash demand and in sympathy with the strength of October pork. November closed 1/8c over Thursday. Corn closed unchanged, oats 1/2c lower and provisions for January delivery 2 1/4c higher. October pork closed $1.40 higher.

Called Upon to Oppose Bryan.

Indianapolis, Oct. 6.—The executive committee of the national Democratic committee issued an address to the national Democracy, the Gold Democrats of the United States, calling on them to oppose Bryan.

THEY DODGED.

BRYAN'S COMMITTEE NEVER REPORTED ON TRUST QUESTION.

Democrats Can Not Successfully Defend Their Record of Inaction, and of Opposition to the Proposed Amendment to the National Constitution.

No report was ever made to congress on the trust question by the house committee of which William J. Bryan was a member, to which that question was referred. Any report and affirmative proposition, in the way of either a bill or a constitutional amendment, both of which were prepared and submitted at the recent session by the Republicans of the house judiciary committee, would be to do something instead of talk, while Mr. Bryan's forte is in talking instead of doing. As a Democrat, undoubtedly he stands with his party in its expressed opposition, shown by the votes of every member but five, against the constitutional amendment that would give congress just the power now lacking in the constitution, according to the United States supreme court, when the Republican attorney general undertook to suppress the sugar trust, but was told by Chief Justice Fuller that the constitution does not touch manufactures at all, but only commerce between the states. It was a Democratic house committee on judiciary that first announced this position, now confirmed by the highest court. Nothing but a constitutional amendment can cure it, and the Bryanites oppose that solely because it might interfere with their same old secession state's rights.

Not even in the states, though, have the Bryan Democracy done what they might on the trust question, for more Republican states have strong statutes upon this subject than have Democratic states. The first state of all to enact a statute against trusts was that steadfast Republican commonwealth of Maine, whose statute of 1889 was of most sweeping character. It was Maine, too, that refused to grant a charter recently to the Tammany Ice Trust in New York. It is Massachusetts, a state with the legislature controlled by the Republicans for 40 years, that is one of the few states in the Union where it is impossible to organize a trust, and its laws are far in advance of any Democratic state in this respect.

The first federal law against combinations was the Cullom interstate commerce act of 1888, a Republican measure to control the railroads. The first actual law against trusts in general was the Republican Sherman act, pronounced by a Democratic judiciary committee as "skillfully drawn to cover the authority delegated to the federal government." The first presidential declaration against trusts was by a Republican president, Harrison. The first national platform declaration by a great party against them with any suggestion of remedy was the Republican plank of 1888, written by William McKinley, now president of the United States. These records are the best test.

BUSINESS PROVISIO.

Houses Are Stipulating, "Void if Bryan Is Elected."

"Void if Bryan is elected," is a proviso, in substance, that a good many business houses in the east and west are putting into their contracts just now. A number of concerns have been named that make this significant condition, but the biggest of all is Tammany Hall. This king bee among all Democratic organizations, in its capacity of control of the city of New York, has recently inserted this very condition in contracts just made between the city and a bridge company, covering a large transaction and a long period. The stipulation is explicit that the agreement shall be null and void in case of Bryan's election. That is Tammany talking business, and it is the same Tammany without which, and its Boss Croker, Bryan has not a ghost of a chance of election. This incident only proves the truth of the New York Journal of Commerce remark that there is "an unmistakable disposition to defer all business that can be put off until the votes are counted and even small chance disappears." Does any man imagine for a minute that there would be the slightest hesitation or delay if there were an absolute certainty of McKinley's election and that of a Republican congress?

JOHNSTOWN CELEBRATES.

Many Visitors at the Centennial—Governor Stone Laid Cornerstone of City Building.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 6.—The first day of Johnstown's centennial celebration found the city overflowing with visitors and enthusiasm reigned supreme. The weather was all that could be desired, the sun shining brightly nearly all day. Never before in the history of Johnstown have the decorations been so pretty and so elaborate. A number of electric lights helped at night.

The streets were densely packed with people at 9 o'clock in the morning, when the fantastic parade, the first event of the celebration, took place. This parade, the feature of which was a "rube" band of 60 pieces, furnished much amusement.

Shortly after 5 o'clock in the afternoon Governor Stone, accompanied by his staff, arrived and were driven to the site of the new municipal building where the governor, who was enthusiastically greeted by the 15,000 people present, made a brief address and laid the cornerstone. Speeches were also delivered by ex-Governor Hastings, Mayor Woodruff, and Judge A. V. Barker, of Cambria county, all of which dealt with local and historical matters. Music was furnished by a children's chorus of 1,200 voices. The children were arranged on a large stand, each was furnished with flags and they presented an inspiring sight.

Last night an illuminated bicycle parade furnished amusement for the thousands who packed the streets. There was also a patriotic massmeeting in the Johnstown opera house, which was largely attended. Historical addresses were made by local speakers and patriotic music furnished by a mass chorus of 250 voices.

VICTIM OF RIOT DIED.

Women Stoned Workers, on the Way From Mines.

Shenandoah, Pa., Oct. 6.—Edward Doyle, a miner, aged 50 years, one of the victims of the riot here two weeks ago, died. While the riot was in progress Mr. Doyle left his home to look after the safety of his children, when a stray bullet struck him below the heart. A widow and large family survive him.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 6.—Eight Italians, employed on the night shift of the Calvin Pardee & Co. colliery at Lattimer, were attacked by 25 women who had marched from Milnesville. The women were mostly Hungarians and Italians. They left Milnesville at 4 o'clock, marched through Lattimer, two miles distant, and waited to attack the men working in the Lattimer mine as they passed along the road which leads to their homes at Hollywood.

Italians saw the women on the road ahead of them, and fearing an attack, crossed the field to avoid them. The women, however, also crossed the field and, overtaking the men, hurled showers of stones at them. The workmen did not attempt to defend themselves, but ran away and were soon out of the reach of the fury of the excited women.

One man received a severe cut on the head, while several of the others were struck by pieces of rock, but were not injured.

Some of the foreigners are beginning to show an ugly disposition. They are seen in greater numbers on the highways, and as some of them carry clubs, a collision between them and the coal and iron police may occur at almost any time.

KILLED HIS SON-IN-LAW.

Thomas Workman Shot M. F. Dryden For Abusing His Wife at Wheeling.

Wheeling, Oct. 6.—M. F. Dryden, a prominent lawyer, and former pastor of the North Street Methodist Episcopal church, in this city, was shot and instantly killed by Thomas Workman, his father-in-law. Dryden has had the reputation of abusing his wife for years while under the influence of drink.

In the evening Dryden was drunk and quarreled with his wife. During the night he became sick and Mr. Workman went for medicine. When he returned he found Dryden choking his wife. Workman shot him without waiting for any further developments. Workman is highly thought of here. He surrendered to the police.

Up to September 14 over $332,000,000 of United States bonds were refunded at lower interest under the new Republican law, with a net saving in interest in each year of $8,418,205. Bryanism would spoil all that.

"MILITARISM."

MR BRYAN'S MISREPRESENTATIONS OF THE ARMY BILL.

It Was Passed After Aguinaldo's Rebellion Had Broken Out, and Was Adopted by a Majority Which Included Many Patriotic Democrats.

"A Republican house of representatives formed to do his (McKinley's) bidding passed a bill" for the army increase to 100,000 men, is Bryan's identical language in a recent speech about the "large military establishment." The record shows that the increase was reported by the entire military committee of the senate, Democrats and Populists included, and that the senate voted for it 55 to 13, including all the leading Democrats and every Populist but one. In the house the vote was 203 to 32 in favor of it—proof that most of the Democrats and Populists supported this measure, which Bryan attributes to a Republican house of representatives, as if it were partisan in place of patriotic.

One more misstatement, either through ignorance or intent, in the same brief paragraph, is Mr. Bryan's statement that "this was done after the treaty of peace was signed and before hostilities broke out in Manila." Every school boy in America knows that "hostilities broke out in Manila" on February 4, 1899, with the first shots from Bryan's friend Aguinaldo, while it is the official record that the increase of the army was made upon a bill not reported to the senate until February 24, acted upon after that date in that body, and still later by the house. Thus several weeks had passed after "hostilities broke out in Manila." Is Bryan ignorant of these everyday facts, or can't he tell the truth about them?

"Why did we need such an army," he asks? During the two full days' debate in the senate it was well known and stated over again, that the main purpose of this authority given to the president was to use the forces thus created to suppress the insurrection in the Philippines and to maintain American sovereignty. The same position was taken in the house as well; and in both bodies many Democrats who favored the bill argued that the United States having acquired sovereignty, under the treaty which Bryan did so much to ratify, they were constrained as a matter of public duty, to give the president the necessary power to suppress the existing rebellion, in order that the honor and credit of the American nation might be upheld and its authority fully sustained. That's "why we need such an army," Mr. Bryan, and you know it well enough if you would tell the truth.

SAVINGS BANKS.

Deposits and Number of Depositors Are an Index of Prosperity.

When we have good times, the workmen save money and put it into savings banks. When dull times come, much of this money has to be drawn out to meet current expenses. Hence, there is no more certain index of the financial condition of the working class than the reports of the savings banks.

The comptroller of the currency at Washington has tabulated the figures of all the savings banks of the country for the fiscal year ended June 30 last, and for the preceding year. A comparison of the totals of the two sets of figures shows that the increase in deposits last year exceeded $200,000,000, while the number of depositors increased from 5,687,818 to 6,202,779, a gain of 514,961.

The total deposits at this time aggregate $2,430,561,290. That the depositors are working people is shown by the average deposits being but $391.85. The gain in deposits and in the number of depositors is not confined to any section, as the following table of gains will show:

MIDDLE WEST.

Gain in total deposits.....$68,733,291

Gain in number of depositors 207,545

EASTERN STATES.

Gain in total deposits.....$84,221,712

Gain in number of depositors 145,187

NEW ENGLAND.

Gain in total deposits.....$45,260,818

Gain in number of depositors 123,793

SOUTHERN STATES.

Gain in total deposits.....$ 2,841,423

Gain in number of depositors 4,956

These people are naturally interested in the preservation of the present prosperity. Hence they will not vote for Bryan and free silver, which they know will bring on another panic like that of 1893. All of the Nebraskan's wild vaporings about imperialism will not change this determination.

TWO PISTOL SHOTS WERE HEARD.

Strikers Attacked Workmen—Fled From the Sheriff.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 6.—Another attack was made on the mine workers employed in the Lattimer mines. About 50 of the men, while being conveyed to their homes at Hollywood in a railroad car drawn by a mine engine they were attacked by about 100 strikers. Stones and rocks were thrown at the men in the car and two of the workmen were severely cut about the head. Sheriff Harvey, who was on the car, ordered the engineer to stop, and as he and a few deputies stepped from the coach, the attacking party scattered in all directions. Two pistol shots were heard, but which side fired them is not known.

A SOLDIER SENTENCED TO BE SHOT.

Commuted by President McKinley—Culprit Committed Criminal Assault.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Private Frank Mills, Company I, Twenty-third infantry, was convicted by court martial at Cebu, P. I., on the charge of criminal assault and sentenced to be "shot to death with musketry." The case having been submitted to the president for his action, he commuted the sentence to "dishonorable discharge, forfeiture of all pay and allowance and confined at hard labor in a penitentiary for the period of 20 years."

The penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., has been designated by the war department as the place of confinement.

BRYAN IN GAS BELT.

Well Received in a Republican Stronghold of Indiana—Spoke Monday on Trusts.

Anderson, Ind., Oct. 6.—The meeting which closed here last night was the last of a series of remarkably large political demonstrations made in connection with the appearance in Indiana of Hon. W. J. Bryan, the Democratic candidate. Mr. Bryan left Indianapolis with the intention of visiting during the day as many places as possible, in what is known as the gas belt of the state, and in pursuance of that purpose, he almost circled the city of Indianapolis, visiting no fewer than nine counties and making an even dozen speeches. The speeches were made in succession at Noblesville, Arcadia, Winchester, Richmond, New Castle and Anderson. A majority of these places are important manufacturing centers, and all the communities traversed are considered Republican in politics. They could not, however, have given the Democratic candidate a more cordial reception than they extended, if the sentiment had been pronounced for him. There were immense outpourings at all the towns visited and no interruption indicative pronounced opposition occurred. On the contrary, there was at most places much enthusiasm manifested by Mr. Bryan's supporters. Trusts formed the subject of most of the speeches of the day, but at Richmond Mr. Bryan devoted all his time to imperialism.

The presiding officer at the Richmond meeting was Hon. Henry U. Johnson, formerly a prominent member of congress and until recently a pronounced Republican. Mr. Bryan defended Johnson's action in quitting his party.

QUAY SPOKE AT TITUSVILLE.

The Ex-Senator Well Received—Big Parade Was Held.

Titusville, Pa., Oct. 6.—Colonel M. S. Quay, Attorney General Elkin and party addressed an immense mass-meeting here, under the auspices of the McKinley and Roosevelt club. Speeches were made by Colonel Quay, Attorney General Elkin, Lincoln J. Eyre, of Philadelphia; Major Alex. McDowell, of Sharon, chief clerk of the house of representatives; Hon. W. H. Fairless, of Virginia, and Hon. A. L. Bates, of Meadville, Republican candidate for congress in this district.

Previous to the meeting a big parade was held. Quay was well received, many Republicans from the adjoining country being present at the meeting, which was highly successful.

SAVINGS BANKS.

Deposits and Number of Depositors Are an Index of Prosperity.

When we have good times, the workingmen save money and put it into savings banks. When dull times come, much of this money has to be drawn out to meet current expenses. Hence, there is no more certain index of the financial condition of the working class than the reports of the savings banks.

The comptroller of the currency at Washington has tabulated the figures of all the savings banks of the country for the fiscal year ended June 30 last, and for the preceding year. A comparison of the totals of the two sets of figures shows that the increase in deposits last year exceeded $200,000,000, while the number of depositors increased from 5,687,818 to 6,202,779, a gain of 514,961.

The total deposits at this time aggregate $2,430,561,290. That the depositors are working people is shown by the average deposits being but $391.85. The gain in deposits and in the number of depositors is not confined to any section, as the following table of gains will show:

MIDDLE WEST.
Gain in total deposits.....$68,733,291
Gain in number of depositors.....207,545
EASTERN STATES.
Gain in total deposits.....$84,221,712
Gain in number of depositors.....145,187
NEW ENGLAND.
Gain in total deposits.....$45,260,812

Gain in number of depositors 128,795
SOUTHERN STATES.
Gain in total deposits.....$ 2,841,423
Gain in number of depositors.....4,956

These people are naturally interested in the preservation of the present prosperity. Hence they will not vote for Bryan and free silver, which they know will bring on another panic like that of 1893. All of the Nebraskan's wild vaporings about imperialism will not change this determination.

TWO PISTOL SHOTS WERE HEARD.

Strikers Attacked Workmen—Fled From the Sheriff.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 6.—Another attack was made on the mine workers employed in the Lattimer mines. About 50 of the men, while being conveyed to their homes at Hollywood in a railroad car drawn by a mine engine they were attacked by about 100 strikers. Stones and rocks were thrown at the men in the car and two of the workmen were severely cut about the head. Sheriff Harvey, who was on the car, ordered the engineer to stop, and as he and a few deputies stepped from the coach, the attacking party scattered in all directions. Two pistol shots were heard, but which side fired them is not known.

A SOLDIER SENTENCED TO BE SHOT.

Commuted by President McKinley—Culprit Committed Criminal Assault.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Private Frank Mills, Company I, Twenty-third infantry, was convicted by court martial at Cebu, P. I., on the charge of criminal assault and sentenced to be "shot to death with musketry." The case having been submitted to the president for his action, he commuted the sentence to "dishonorable discharge, forfeiture of all pay and allowance and confined at hard labor in a penitentiary for the period of 20 years."

The penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., has been designated by the war department as the place of confinement.

BRYAN IN GAS BELT.

Well Received in a Republican Stronghold of Indiana—Spoke Monday on Trusts.

Anderson, Ind., Oct. 6.—The meeting which closed here last night was the last of a series of remarkably large political demonstrations made in connection with the appearance in Indiana of Hon. W. J. Bryan, the Democratic candidate. Mr. Bryan left Indianapolis with the intention of visiting during the day as many places as possible, in what is known as the gas belt of the state, and in pursuance of that purpose, he almost circled the city of Indianapolis, visiting no fewer than nine counties and making an even dozen speeches. The speeches were made in succession at Noblesville, Arcadia, Winchester, Richmond, New Castle and Anderson. A majority of these places are important manufacturing centers, and all the communities traversed are considered Republican in politics. They could not, however, have given the Democratic candidate a more cordial reception than they extended, if the sentiment had been pronouncedly for him. There were immense outpourings at all the towns visited and no interruption indicative pronounced opposition occurred. On the contrary, there was at most places much enthusiasm manifested by Mr. Bryan's supporters. Trusts formed the subject of most of the speeches of the day, but at Richmond Mr. Bryan devoted all his time to imperialism.

The presiding officer at the Richmond meeting was Hon. Henry U. Johnson, formerly a prominent member of congress and until recently a pronounced Republican. Mr. Bryan defended Johnson's action in quitting his party.

QUAY SPOKE AT TITUSVILLE.

The Ex-Senator Well Received—Big Parade Was Held.

Titusville, Pa., Oct. 6.—Colonel M. S. Quay, Attorney General Elkin and party addressed an immense mass-meeting here, under the auspices of the McKinley and Roosevelt club. Speeches were made by Colonel Quay, Attorney General Elkin, Lincoln J. Eyre, of Philadelphia; Major Alex. McDowell, of Sharon, chief clerk of the house of representatives; Hon. W. H. Fairless, of Virginia, and Hon. A. L. Bates, of Meadville, Republican candidate for congress in this district. Previous to the meeting a big parade was held. Quay was well received, many Republicans from the adjoining country being present at the meeting, which was highly successful.

THEY DODGED.

BRYAN'S COMMITTEE NEVER REPORTED ON TRUST QUESTION.

Democrats Can Not Successfully Defend Their Record of Inaction, and of Opposition to the Proposed Amendment to the National Constitution.

No report was ever made to congress on the trust question by the house committee of which William J. Bryan was a member, to which that question was referred. Any report and affirmative proposition, in the way of either a bill or a constitutional amendment, both of which were prepared and submitted at the recent session by the Republicans of the house judiciary committee, would be to do something instead of talk, while Mr. Bryan's forte is in talking instead of doing. As a Democrat, undoubtedly he stands with his party in its expressed opposition, shown by the votes of every member but five, against the constitutional amendment that would give congress just the power now lacking in the constitution, according to the United States supreme court, when the Republican attorney general undertook to suppress the sugar trust, but was told by Chief Justice Fuller that the constitution does not touch manufactures at all, but only commerce between the states. It was a Democratic house committee on judiciary that first announced this position, now confirmed by the highest court. Nothing but a constitutional amendment can cure it, and the Bryanites oppose that solely because it might interfere with their same old secession state's rights.

Not even in the states, though, have the Bryan Democracy done what they might on the trust question, for more Republican states have strong statutes upon this subject than have Democratic states. The first state of all to enact a statute against trusts was that steadfast Republican commonwealth of Maine, whose statute of 1889 was of most sweeping character. It was Maine, too, that refused to grant a charter recently to the Tammany Ice Trust in New York. It is Massachusetts, a state with the legislature controlled by the Republicans for 40 years, that is one of the few states in the Union where it is impossible to organize a trust, and its laws are far in advance of any Democratic state in this respect.

The first federal law against combinations was the Cullom interstate commerce act of 1888,—a Republican measure to control the railroads. The first actual law against trusts in general was the Republican Sherman act, pronounced by a Democratic judiciary committee as "skillfully drawn to cover the authority delegated to the federal government." The first presidential declaration against trusts was by a Republican president, Harrison. The first national platform declaration by a great party against them with any suggestion of remedy was the Republican plank of 1888, written by William McKinley, now president of the United States. These records are the best test.

BUSINESS PROVISIO.

Houses Are Stipulating, "Void if Bryan Is Elected."

"Void if Bryan is elected," is a proviso, in substance, that a good many business houses in the east and west are putting into their contracts just now. A number of concerns have been named that make this significant condition, but the biggest of all is Tammany Hall. This king bee among all Democratic organizations, in its capacity of control of the city of New York, has recently inserted this very condition in contracts just made between the city and a bridge company, covering a large transaction and a long period. The stipulation is explicit that the agreement shall be null and void in case of Bryan's election. That is Tammany talking business, and it is the same Tammany without which, and its Boss Croker, Bryan has not a ghost of a chance of election. This incident only proves the truth of the New York Journal of Commerce remark that there is "an unmistakable disposition to defer all business that can be put off until the votes are counted and even small chance disappears." Does any man imagine for a minute that there would be the slightest hesitation or delay if there were an absolute certainty of McKinley's election and that of a Republican congress?

JOHNSTOWN CELEBRATES.

Many Visitors at the Centennial—Governor Stone Laid Cornerstone of City Building.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 6.—The first day of Johnstown's centennial celebration found the city overflowing with visitors and enthusiasm reigned supreme. The weather was all that could be desired, the sun shining brightly nearly all day. Never before in the history of Johnstown have the decorations been so pretty and so elaborate. A number of electric lights helped at night.

The streets were densely packed with people at 9 o'clock in the morning, when the fantastic parade, the first event of the celebration, took place. This parade, the feature of which was a "rube" band of 60 pieces, furnished much amusement.

Shortly after 5 o'clock in the afternoon Governor Stone, accompanied by his staff, arrived and were driven to the site of the new municipal building where the governor, who was enthusiastically greeted by the 15,000 people present, made a brief address and laid the cornerstone. Speeches were also delivered by ex-Governor Hastings, Mayor Woodruff, and Judge A. V. Barker, of Cambria county, all of which dealt with local and historical matters. Music was furnished by a children's chorus of 1,200 voices. The children were arranged on a large stand, each was furnished with flags and they presented an inspiring sight.

Last night an illuminated bicycle parade furnished amusement for the thousands who packed the streets. There was also a patriotic mass-meeting in the Johnstown opera house, which was largely attended. Historical addresses were made by local speakers and patriotic music furnished by a mass chorus of 250 voices.

VICTIM OF RIOT DIED.

Women Stoned Workers, on the Way From Mines.

Shenandoah, Pa., Oct. 6.—Edward Doyle, a miner, aged 50 years, one of the victims of the riot here two weeks ago, died. While the riot was in progress Mr. Doyle left his home to look after the safety of his children, when a stray bullet struck him below the heart. A widow and large family survive him.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 6.—Eight Italians, employed on the night shift of the Calvin Pardee & Co. colliery at Lattimer, were attacked by 25 women who had marched from Milnesville. The women were mostly Hungarians and Italians. They left Milnesville at 4 o'clock, marched through Lattimer, two miles distant, and waited to attack the men working in the Lattimer mine as they passed along the road which leads to their homes at Hollywood.

Italians saw the women on the road ahead of them, and fearing an attack, crossed the field to avoid them. The women, however, also crossed the field and, overtaking the men, hurled showers of stones at them. The workmen did not attempt to defend themselves, but ran away and were soon out of the reach of the fury of the excited women.

One man received a severe cut on the head, while several of the others were struck by pieces of rock, but were not injured.

Some of the foreigners are beginning to show an ugly disposition. They are seen in greater numbers on the highways, and as some of them carry clubs, a collision between them and the coal and iron police may occur at almost any time.

KILLED HIS SON-IN-LAW.

Thomas Workman Shot M. F. Dryden For Abusing His Wife, at Wheeling.

Wheeling, Oct. 6.—M. F. Dryden, a prominent lawyer, and former pastor of the North Street Methodist Episcopal church, in this city, was shot and instantly killed by Thomas Workman, his father-in-law. Dryden has had the reputation of abusing his wife for years while under the influence of drink.

In the evening Dryden was drunk and quarreled with his wife. During the night he became sick and Mr. Workman went for medicine. When he returned he found Dryden choking his wife. Workman shot him without waiting for any further developments. Workman is highly thought of here. He surrendered to the police.

Up to September 14 over $332,000,000 of United States bonds were refunded at lower interest under the new Republican law, with a net saving in interest in each year of $8,418,205. Bryanism would spoil all that.

"MILITARISM."

MR BRYAN'S MISREPRESENTATIONS OF THE ARMY BILL.

It Was Passed After Aguinaldo's Rebellion Had Broken Out, and Was Adopted by a Majority Which Included Many Patriotic Democrats.

"A Republican house of representatives formed to do his (McKinley's) bidding passed a bill" for the army increase to 100,000 men, is Bryan's identical language in a recent speech about the "large military establishment." The record shows that the increase was reported by the entire military committee of the senate, Democrats and Populists included, and that the senate voted for it 55 to 13, including all the leading Democrats and every Populist but one. In the house the vote was 203 to 32 in favor of it—proof that most of the Democrats and Populists supported this measure, which Bryan attributes to a Republican house of representatives, as if it were partisan in place of patriotic.

One more misstatement, either through ignorance or intent, in the same brief paragraph, is Mr. Bryan's statement that "this was done after the treaty of peace was signed and before hostilities broke out in Manila." Every school boy in America knows that "hostilities broke out in Manila" on February 4, 1899, with the first shots from Bryan's friend Aguinaldo, while it is the official record that the increase of the army was made upon a bill not reported to the senate until February 24, acted upon after that date in that body, and still later by the house. Thus several weeks had passed after "hostilities broke out in Manila." Is Bryan ignorant of these everyday facts, or can't he tell the truth about them?

"Why did we need such an army," he asks? During the two full days' debate in the senate it was well known and stated over again, that the main purpose of this authority given to the president was to use the forces thus created to suppress the insurrection in the Philippines and to maintain American sovereignty. The same position was taken in the house as well; and in both bodies many Democrats who favored the bill argued that the United States having acquired sovereignty, under the treaty which Bryan did so much to ratify, they were constrained as a matter of public duty, to give the president the necessary power to suppress the existing rebellion, in order that the honor and credit of the American nation might be upheld and its authority fully sustained. That's "why we need such an army," Mr. Bryan, and you know it well enough if you would tell the truth.

When we have good times, the workmen save money and put it into savings banks. When dull times come, much of this money has to be drawn out to meet current expenses. Hence, there is no more certain index of the financial condition of the working class than the reports of the savings banks.

The comptroller of the currency at Washington has tabulated the figures of all the savings banks of the country for the fiscal year ended June 30 last, and for the preceding year. A comparison of the totals of the two sets of figures shows that the increase in deposits last year exceeded $200,000,000, while the number of depositors increased from 5,687,818 to 6,202,779, a gain of 514,961.

The total deposits at this time aggregate $2,430,561,290. That the depositors are working people is shown by the average deposits being but $391.85. The gain in deposits and in the number of depositors is not confined to any section, as the following table of gains will show:

A MODEL PLANT.

That is What a Trade Paper Calls the Taylor, Lee & Smith Pottery.

In speaking of the Taylor, Lee & Smith pottery, China, Glass and Lamps says:

The Taylor, Lee & Smith company's new pottery at Chester, W. Va., is, perhaps, the latest and best equipped pottery in the country. They will begin making ware at once and will have the first kiln of ware in about 10 days or two weeks. They start off with nine kilns, four large decorating kilns, five glost and four biscuit kilns and room enough reserved for nine more kilns, with machinery now installed to take care of the increased output and a small addition. In building their pottery every new device that could be thought of toward making an improved modern pottery has been taken advantage of. There is not a hanger for shafting or anything attached to the ceiling throughout the entire plant, consequently there will be no shaking of floors. Everything has been done to make it a model plant.

THE IRON-WORKERS.

Youngstown's Eight Thousand Men Are at Work.

DEMOCRATIC SLANDER SHOWN UP

Men Are All Satisfied With the Schedule—Futile Efforts to Inject Politics Into a Purely Business Matter Resented by President Shaffer.

Youngstown has a right to rejoice, with 8,000 men put to work in her iron and steel mills by the agreement between the manufacturers and the amalgamated association upon a new wage-scale for the year to come. This restores full activity to 60,000 men in that single industry, and the better part of it is that, throughout the negotiations of several months, both employers and employed maintained the most friendly relations, and all alike rejoiced when a result was reached in harmony and with reasonable fairness to both sides.

While the men did not get all that they asked, the manufacturers claim that the new scale provides for higher wages than any previous one when the selling price of iron was as low as it is now, and figure that the puddlers are to receive 20 per cent. advance over the wages of 1898, and the men in the finishing mills 15 per cent. more. How wrong, then, is the attempt to inject politics into this wage-settlement affecting the industries of such a vast army of wage-earners, that some of the Democratic papers have made. The men themselves are greatly rejoiced over the signing of the schedule, and say it is absurd to suppose that it was not the very best adjustment that could be had.

Organized labor cannot furnish a witness more widely acceptable within its own ranks than Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of labor, who said at Cincinnati, where the scale was signed:

"I, in common with all organized labor, will believe that it was the best obtainable under existing conditions. The officers of the association have a great and powerful organization back of them, and it is not reasonable to suppose that they would take less than they conceive they are justly entitled to."

Another Democratic attempt to inject politics into this purely business matter was made by the Youngstown Democratic organ, in a statement that President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, who "is a Democrat and has always been a Democrat, will vote for Bryan at the November election, because he believes that he is the friend of the workmen, and that he will represent them fairly and honestly." Mr. Shaffer had left his Youngstown home when this was published, and when asked about it by a Cincinnati reporter, thus learning of it, he made this emphatic reply:

"It is an outrage that my name is used so recklessly. I have never at any time stated that I was a Bryan sympathizer; that I would vote for him because he is the friend of labor, etc., but, on the contrary, I have stated that I AM A REPUBLICAN AND WILL VOTE FOR MCKINLEY. As president of the association of steel workers I do not intend exercising any prestige that I may have by reason

GRANT'S GRANDSON

Makes a Neat Point on Bryan's Resignation From the Army.

A neat point was brought out recently in a speech at Hagerstown, Md., by Captain Sartoris, grandson of General Grant. He tells that when Bryan resigned as colonel of the Third Nebraska, upon the regiment being ordered to Cuba, the Nebraskan remarked to his superior officer:

"I think that I can be of more use to my country as a citizen than as a soldier."

"Well," said the adjutant general, who knows that Bryan did not shine as a soldier, "I believe there is even some question as to that."

The very apt comment is made upon this that "if Colonel Bryan had not the executive ability to command 1,000 men properly, how can he expect to be head, not only of an army of nearly 100,000 and a navy, but of 80,000,000 American citizens?"

A GERMAN OPINION.

Bryan's reiteration in his acceptance letter of the 16 to 1 silver absurdity, has angered the Indianapolis German Telegraph, the state organ of the German Democrats of Indiana. Editorially it flays him alive, complaining among other things of a "campaign management incapable beyond expression," and saying:

"Mr. Bryan knows, or should know, that the Democratic party was defeated four years ago on the money issue alone, and if he prides himself on not changing his views, he may discover on November 6 that the majority of the American people have not changed their views, either."

ONE GOOD POINT.

John Barrett, so long American minister to Siam by Democratic appointment, and an expert in the eastern question, makes a good point in this. "When they tell you that we have already spent $100,000,000 and the lives of many in the Philippines, you tell them what I say now, that it would cost us millions and millions of dollars and the lives of hundreds of thousands to reclaim the prestige we would lose in the Pacific and in the whole world were we to depart now from the islands and leave undone our duties and run away from our responsibilities."

MONEY FOR CROPS.

An average of the estimates by experts upon the crops of the country indicates an output for the present year of over 500,000,000 bushels of wheat, nearly 800,000,000 bushels of oats, and fully 2,000,000,000 bushels of corn. What kind of money do the producers of this vast agricultural wealth wish for their crops—100-cent dollars or 45-cent dollars, McKinley money or Bryan promises to pay, genuine gold or silver at 16-to-1 for the mine owner and somewhere near 40 to 1 for the farmer?

A part of the curious list of Lady Littleton's wedding outfit 200 years ago is as follows: "A black paddysway gown and coat, a pink unwatered pabby sute of cloaths, a gold stuff sute of cloaths, a white worked with sneal sute of cloaths."

THIS IS A MAN'S METHOD.

His Way of Making a Carpet Bargain While His Wife Was Away.

"I want both my upper and lower halls recarpeted," was the remark Charles J. Jones of East Walnut Hills made to a well known carpet man. "And I'm going to move out of the house until you finish the work! I'll leave the choice and color to you! My wife is out of town, you see, and I want to surprise her upon her return. There is only one condition to this bargain—I must ask you, as we are old friends, to give me a small figure in the carpet."

"All right!" said the carpet man. And Charles Jones staid away from home for two days, while the carpet man's hirelings banged away with their hammers, and he hugged himself as he thought of the surprise that was in store for his wife when she returned. Last Thursday the carpet man called Jones up by telephone and announced that the carpet was laid.

"It's a dark green!" said the carpet man.

"I'm glad of that!" answered Jones. "And as small a figure as is consistent with the carpet!" roared the carpet man.

"I'm gladder than ever!" said Jones. That evening he visited his home and was satisfied that the carpet was a peach. The next morning he met the carpet man.

"How much do I owe you?" inquired Jones.

"It is $98.65," said the carpet dealer. "What?" yelled Jones. "Where's the small figure you and I agreed on?"

"Why, on the border of the carpet!" said the amazed dealer. "It's a morning glory vine with pink and white flowers! You've got a bargain at that figure!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

HOME LIFE ON THE WANE.

English Hostesses Accused of Being Perpetual Gadabouts.

Slowly, but surely, the pride the English hostesses took in their home, in their reputation for hospitality and in their ability to plan pleasant little entertainments for their friends is passing away. The smart young hostess no longer cares to welcome her guests among her Lares and Penates; it is no longer her earnest desire to display her housewifely genius; no longer her ambition to shine as a "clever little woman who so thoroughly understands just what every one likes."

There are too many irons in society's fire to look after nowadays for her to fritter away time in this fashion. Moreover, people want incessant novelty; they are bored with even good menus, they tire of certain surroundings, they must have everything a little in advance, and as little as possible like anything that obtained a decade, to say nothing of two decades, ago. Thus it is we rush with our friends in unhome-like fashion from restaurant to restaurant, like bona fide travelers; thus it is we inhospitably, one might almost venture to say meanly, ask our friends to share expenses with us in the little pleasures we should once have offered them. The commercial spirit is indeed rampant in us in this advanced age. One almost dreads to think what next must be sacrificed to it and what will be the home life and the English house-mother of the next generation.—Ladies' Pictorial.

Mr. Shaffer had left his Youngstown home when this was published, and when asked about it by a Cincinnati reporter, thus learning of it, he made this emphatic reply:

"It is an outrage that my name is used so recklessly. I have never at any time stated that I was a Bryan sympathizer; that I would vote for him because he is the friend of labor, etc., but, on the contrary, I have stated that I AM A REPUBLICAN AND WILL VOTE FOR M'KINLEY. As president of the association of steel workers I do not intend exercising any prestige that I may have by reason

GRANT'S GRANDSON

Makes a Neat Point on Bryan's Resignation From the Army.

A neat point was brought out recently in a speech at Hagerstown, Md., by Captain Sartoris, grandson of General Grant. He tells that when Bryan resigned as colonel of the Third Nebraska, upon the regiment being ordered to Cuba, the Nebraskan remarked to his superior officer:

"I think that I can be of more use to my country as a citizen than as a soldier."

"Well," said the adjutant general, who knows that Bryan did not shine as a soldier, "I believe there is even some question as to that!"

The very apt comment is made upon this that "If Colonel Bryan had not the executive ability to command 1,000 men properly, how can he expect to be head, not only of an army of nearly 100,000 and a navy, but of 80,000,000 American citizens?"

A GERMAN OPINION.

Bryan's reiteration in his acceptance letter of the 16 to 1 silver absurdity, has angered the Indianapolis German Telegraph, the state organ of the German Democrats of Indiana. Editorially it flays him alive, complaining among other things of a "campaign management incapable beyond expression," and saying:

"Mr. Bryan knows, or should know, that the Democratic party was defeated four years ago on the money issue alone, and if he prides himself on not changing his views, he may discover on November 6 that the majority of the American people have not changed their views, either."

ONE GOOD POINT.

John Barrett, so long American minister to Siam by Democratic appointment, and an expert in the eastern question, makes a good point in this. "When they tell you that we have already spent $100,000,000 and the lives of many in the Philippines, you tell them what I say now, that it would cost us millions and millions of dollars and the lives of hundreds of thousands to reclaim the prestige we would lose in the Pacific and in the whole world were we to depart now from the islands and leave undone our duties and run away from our responsibilities."

MONEY FOR CROPS.

An average of the estimates by experts upon the crops of the country indicates an output for the present year of over 500,000,000 bushels of wheat, nearly 800,000,000 bushels of oats, and fully 2,000,000,000 bushels of corn. What kind of money do the producers of this vast agricultural wealth wish for their crops—100-cent dollars or 45-cent dollars, McKinley money or Bryan promises to pay, genuine gold or silver at 16-to-1 for the mine owner and somewhere near 40 to 1 for the farmer?

A part of the curious list of Lady Littleton's wedding outfit 200 years ago is as follows: "A black paddysway gown and coat, a pink unwatered pabby sute of cloaths, a gold stuff sute of cloaths, a white worked with sneal sute of cloaths."

THIS IS A MAN'S METHOD.

His Way of Making a Carpet Bargain While His Wife Was Away.

"I want both my upper and lower halls recarpeted," was the remark Charles J. Jones of East Walnut Hills made to a well known carpet man. "And I'm going to move out of the house until you finish the work! I'll leave the choice and color to you! My wife is out of town, you see, and I want to surprise her upon her return. There is only one condition to this bargain—I must ask you, as we are old friends, to give me a small figure in the carpet."

"All right!" said the carpet man. And Charles Jones staid away from home for two days, while the carpet man's hirelings banged away with their hammers, and he hugged himself as he thought of the surprise that was in store for his wife when she returned. Last Thursday the carpet man called Jones up by telephone and announced that the carpet was laid.

"It's a dark green!" said the carpet man.

"I'm glad of that!" answered Jones. "And as small a figure as is consistent with the carpet!" roared the carpet man.

"I'm gladder than ever!" said Jones. That evening he visited his home and was satisfied that the carpet was a peach. The next morning he met the carpet man.

"How much do I owe you?" inquired Jones.

"It is $98.05," said the carpet dealer. "What?" yelled Jones. "Where's the small figure you and I agreed on?"

"Why, on the border of the carpet!" said the amazed dealer. "It's a morning glory vine with pink and white flowers! You've got a bargain at that figure!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

HOME LIFE ON THE WANE.

English Hostesses Accused of Being Perpetual Gadabouts.

Slowly, but surely, the pride the English hostesses took in their home, in their reputation for hospitality and in their ability to plan pleasant little entertainments for their friends is passing away. The smart young hostess no longer cares to welcome her guests among her Lares and Penates; it is no longer her earnest desire to display her housewifely genius; no longer her ambition to shine as a "clever little woman who so thoroughly understands just what every one likes."

There are too many irons in society's fire to look after nowadays for her to fritter away time in this fashion. Moreover, people want incessant novelty; they are bored with even good menus, they tire of certain surroundings, they must have everything a little in advance, and as little as possible like anything that obtained a decade, to say nothing of two decades, ago. Thus it is we rush with our friends in unhome-like fashion from restaurant to restaurant, like bona fide travelers; thus it is we inhospitably, one might almost venture to say meanly, ask our friends to share expenses with us in the little pleasures we should once have offered them. The commercial spirit is indeed rampant in us in this advanced age. One almost dreads to think what next must be sacrificed to it and what will be the home life and the English house-mother of the next generation.—Ladies Pictorial.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 101.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1900.

TWO CENTS

A DISGRACEFUL SCENE YESTERDAY

Two Men and a Woman Made a Show of Themselves on Second Street.

WOMAN USED AN UMBRELLA

She Beat Both Men With It and Then Chased Them Down the Street.

PARTIES HAD BEEN DRINKING

Two men and a woman emerged from a notorious joint on Second street yesterday at about 3 o'clock, and from their actions they were considerably the worse for booze. Besides this they didn't seem to be agreeing well, and very soon after leaving the dive the woman, who carried an umbrella, became furious and made at one of the men, while the other one ran. She landed fast and furious on the fellow's head and shoulders with the umbrella. He couldn't stand this, and he too started to run. The whole party ran out Second street to the residence of J. H. Simms, when the pursued concluded to change his course. He turned about and returned as far as Market street and went up that thoroughfare at a rapid pace. The first man was out of sight up the hill in a very short time, but the other fellow didn't get on so well and was thumped all the way up the street. He finally got away and the woman returned to the saloon. The umbrella was torn in shreds and her hair was hanging down her back in a disheveled mass.

The affair was witnessed by a large crowd of interested spectators. It is said the crowd came from Pittsburgh several days ago and have been drinking ever since.

THIRTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

Rev. J. G. Reinartz And His Wife Were Very Agreeably Surprised Last Night.

While the returns of the religious census were being looked over by the ministers of the city, Rev. Reinartz was hastily called home. When he arrived at the parsonage he found a large assembly of members and friends gathered there to remind him and his wife that it was the thirteenth anniversary of their marriage. The surprise was a complete one, and after spending a happy evening the friends departed, leaving behind many substantial expressions of their good will towards the pastor and his family.

IN SOCIETY.

MISS SARAH AND WALLACE HALL ENTERTAINED.

Their Home Last Evening Was the Scene of a Very Pleasant Society Event.

Miss Sarah and Miss Wallace Hall last evening at their home on Kosuth street entertained friends at 6 o'clock dinner.

The affair was one of the most pleasant and elaborate society events ever given in the city and the arrangements were perfect.

Guests to the number of 35 were present and upon being received were presented with beautifully and daintily hand painted souvenirs which bore the number of their partner for dinner. Nine tables had been prepared, and after each course, at the sound of the bell, the gentlemen would move to the next table, and as nine courses were served it brought them back to their original places. The dinner was very elaborate and could not have been more tastefully served, as it gave all the guests a chance to mingle with each other. The dining room presented a very handsome appearance.

Each guest had been requested to send their acceptance in verse, and after the dinner was served, the guests were presented with cards while Miss Ella Huston read the verses and the guests were to guess who the author was. All of the verses were very good and evoked much laughter.

The first prize was a very pretty picture, while the "booby" prize was certainly unique. It consisted of a small head of cabbage with the center hollowed out and filled with small licorice "nigger babies" and the head tied back on. It went to Attorney R. G. Thompson.

There was not a guest present that did not thoroughly enjoy the evening, and the affair will long be remembered by all.

ONE VICTIM.

Harry Haden And William Boyd Had a Fight Last Night.

Harry Haden was the only victim to fall into the hands of the police last night.

He was drunk and engaged in an altercation with William Boyd, the bartender at the National House. Officers Davidson and Aufderheide arrived on the scene in time to prevent a disastrous battle, and Haden was conveyed to the city jail. He has not yet been given a hearing.

FIFTY BASKETS.

A Large Batch of Ware Was Sent to Pittsburgh This Morning on the Market Car.

The early east bound train due here at 8:03 was delayed 20 minutes by a freight on the river division this morning. When the train arrived at the station there were 50 baskets of ware to be loaded on the market car and this caused another delay of 15 minutes. There were many complaints from the passengers.

YOU SHOULD GET A COPY OF THE BOOK

At the Same Time You Will Be Contributing to Galveston Relief Fund.

HAS OVER ONE HUNDRED PAGES

"Picturesque Galveston" Was on Press at the Time the Awful Storm Occurred.

IT WILL ONLY COST YOU $2

Those who have not contributed to the Galveston relief fund now have an opportunity to do so and at the same time receive a copy of "Picturesque Galveston" that is well worth the price asked for it.

The following communication explains itself:

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 20, 1900.

Dear Sir—At the time of the storm, Sept. 8, we had in press a very handsome publication entitled "Picturesque Galveston." It is a book of something over a hundred pages, printed on 80-pound coated paper, filled with views of this, one of the most beautiful cities in the world. It was to have been issued this week by the business men of Galveston as a souvenir advertisement of the city. We find that possibly one-half of the edition can be saved and we are now binding those copies and will have them ready for delivery very shortly.

We have tendered the profits of this publication to the Galveston relief committee and under their auspices the book will be sold to the general public at $2 a volume. The book is one of the handsomest things that has ever come from the printing press, and is a souvenir of Galveston of the day before the storm. As a record of what the city was and as a prophecy of what the city will be when restored, this volume is well worth the money, as it is the only thing of record in that line. Besides, purchasers will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are contributing to the relief of thousands who were left homeless and destitute by the hurricane.

We beg to request that you will at once in your columns advertise this volume and receive orders for the book, forwarding the same to us with the money at the rate of $2 a volume. We feel that we may appeal to you in a fraternal spirit and that you can safely guarantee to purchasers full value for their money.

We will be able to save, perhaps, 3,000 or 4,000 volumes. Of course, the first orders received will be the first orders filled. Orders received after the edition is exhausted will be returned with the cash.

May I not personally appeal to you in behalf of humanity to push this little enterprise in your columns? For yourself alone, you will find the book a satisfactory investment. Possibly you can get your business organizations to take a few copies, and certainly many people of artistic taste in your city will be glad to have a volume. I can assure you upon honor that they will not be disappointed.

Address all orders and make checks payable to the Galveston Tribune. Begging your early attention, I am, Yours very truly,

CLARENCE OUSLEY,
Editor Galveston Tribune.
Approved in behalf of the Galveston Relief Committee, W. A. McVitie, Chairman.

ELEVEN YEARS.

Three of Our Mail Carriers Have Been Doing Duty for Uncle Sam.

As mail carriers, we have veterans in the service; veterans of the late war and veterans in their special length of service in the postoffice department. A Swaney, David Jessup and P. F. McCloskey have now been in Uncle Sam's service for a period of 11 years, and have done faithful and effective duty. They have traveled many thousands of miles and handled many tons weight of mail matter. In bulk, had they now in their possession all the letters and papers delivered by them to citizens of East Liverpool, they could boast of owning a mountain of reading matter, behind which a small army could take safe refuge against an enemy. We wish our comrades long life, happiness and prosperity.

FUNNY VIEWS.

The Report is That a Local Artist is Taking Them on the Very Spot.

There appeared yesterday, in a local sheet, a picture entitled "View of East Liverpool from Pleasant Heights." It is a peculiar picture, and the peculiarities are very peculiar. It is also a valuable picture, and a good picture to keep always on hand around and about a printing office, as it will come in play in almost any emergency, from the Galveston horror to the last terrific battle in China. The special artist has reason to be proud of his peculiar ability.

MR. W. J. BRYAN DOWN IN MEXICO

What the Apostle of Free Silver Saw In That Section of Country.

A FULL WARNING TO LABOR

Hard Common Sense Will Compel
the Workingmen of the Nation
to Dread Bryan.

READ THIS VERY CAREFULLY

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 6, 1900.

In 1896 Mr. Bryan, the Populist candidate for president in the present campaign, asserted from every stump upon which he stood to proclaim the manifold heresies of the Chicago platform, that until this country had the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1 there would be no prosperity for the laboring man, the merchant and the farmer.

With the gold standard continued, he declared, the United States would experience all the miseries and woes of stagnant business depression, a scarcity of money, and subsequent hard times.

He said that under the gold standard wages would decline, while the price of all the necessities of life would increase.

Three years of unexampled prosperity under the administration of President McKinley have completely annihilated all the theories of the Nebraska candidate.

The political economy of Mr. Bryan has not stood the test of time. It would be easy to multiply examples of the fallacy of his teaching.

After the people had refused to accept Mr. Bryan's theories of finance he made a trip into Mexico in order to study the financial conditions of that country, which has the free and unlimited coinage of silver. Mr. Bryan found the Republic of Mexico fairly prosperous in spite of the disadvantages of free silver, and dollars worth 48 cents. He found that Mexico's great and undeveloped resources were being exploited, not by Mexicans who had made fortunes in their own free silver country, but by foreigners—Americans, Englishmen, Germans—who were changing one gold standard dollar into two Mexican dollars and using the money to develop the kind of industries that sold their output in gold standard countries. He found, if he looked carefully about him, that the employes of labor in Mexico were paying that labor in 48-cent dollars, and selling their products in gold standard countries for dollars worth 100 cents.

That is a good thing for the manufacturer—the capitalist—but how does it operate for the benefit of the people?

The late Mr. Romero, Mexico's ambassador to the United States, printed the following in a book in 1898:

"Day laborers in the country (Mexico) get from 19 to 50 cents a day. In some instances 10 to 15 cents a day is allowed to cover cost of meals. The average laborer will live well and in good strength on from 10 to 15 cents a day, and will support his family on from 10 to 20 cents a day. Of course he will have his little patch of corn, beans and chiles planted near his hut, which is the largest part of his bill of fare three times a day, and for 365 days in the year. Five or ten dollars per year will clothe him, except perhaps his hat, and for that he will, if he can get the money, pay from five to twenty dollars."

cents. It will be seen that the laborer actually gets from 9 to 24 cents a day for his labor, that he supports his family on from five to ten cents a day, and that two and a half to five dollars a year buys all his clothes.

Brakemen on trains in free silver Mexico get from $35 to $75 a month; bricklayers get $1 to $1 50 a day; street car conductors get 50 cents to $1 a day; laborers in large cities get from 35 to 65 cents a day, and in the country considerably less; laborers in factories working 11 hours get from 50 cents to $1 a day; skilled miners get $1 to $1 50, and unskilled miners 50 to 80 cents a day; policemen are paid $30 to $50 a month; stone masons get $1 to $1 50 a day; tailors get $1 00 to $1 50 a day, and printers $7 and $8 a week.

All the above prices for labor are in Mexican money, and are taken from official sources of a kind not to be disputed. These prices should be compared to the wages paid in the United States. The agricultural laborer who speaks of the beneficial blessings of free silver should pause to consider the condition of the agricultural laborer in Mexico, who gets from 8 to 24 cents a day—and he should think, at the same time, of the demand for harvest hands in the western states, where two, three and even four dollars per day in gold are not infrequently paid. The American miner, earning from $1 50 to $7 a day, in gold, should think of the miners in free silver Mexico, that get from 50 cents to $1 50 a day in Mexican money, or 25 cents to 75 cents a day in the good money that is paid to labor in the United States by virtue of the success of the principles of sound money, and the Republican party.

In view of the fact that Mr. Bryan has said free silver would increase wages while cheapening the cost of living, it would be well to compare the prices paid for necessities in Mexico in Mexican money, with prices prevailing in the United States in gold standard money.

At El Paso, Texas, the American laborer buys bacon at 11 cents and ham at 15 cents a pound, while across the line in Mexico the Mexican pays 30 cents a pound for bacon and 35 cents a pound for ham. In El Paso salt sells for little more than 1 cent a pound, in Mexico for a little less than 7 cents. Molasses sell at El Paso for 55 cents a gallon, and in Mexico for $2 50 a gallon. Candles sell for $4 a hundred in El Paso, and $9 a hundred in Mexico. Sugar selling for 6 cents a pound at El Paso sells for 15 cents a pound across the line in Mexico. In El Paso flour is bought at $2 15 a hundred pounds, and in Mexico at $5 a hundred pounds. Condensed milk is $3 50 a case in El Paso, and $12 a case in Mexico. Crackers are 7 cents a pound in El Paso and 20 cents in Mexico. Butter is 23 cents and 25 cents a pound in El Paso, and 75 cents in Mexico, etc., etc.

It is scarcely possible to believe that any sane American would deliberately vote to Mexicanize the money and labor of the United States—that he would vote to cut the purchasing power of the dollar he earns to 48 cents, and at the same time witness the inevitable rise in prices of the necessities of life that logically follows the advent of cheaper money.

The gold standard is as much or more in evidence today than four years ago when the Populist candidate, with well studied stage effect, declared that the crown of thorns was pressing down on labor's brow, and the cross of gold was ready for the crucifixion of mankind.

Four years of the gold standard and four years of prosperity for every class of the people have been insufficient to effectually silence the free silver cry. The twin bogies of imperialism and militarism will not effectively divert the attention of the people from the real and only danger—the free coinage of silver and the subsequent demoralization and panic that would follow.

THE S. G. HARD CO.

THE BIG STORE
CASH OR CREDIT

The Kansas City platform not only reaffirms the Chicago platform, but specifically declared for 16 to 1.

If Mr. Bryan and his followers are sincere, their support of 16 to 1 is as important as in 1896, and their obligation to enact free coinage measures as great as it would have been had Mr. Bryan been elected at that time.

To cheapen our money, to cut our dollar in two, and thus Mexicanize our laborers, while raising the prices of the necessities of life, is the only serious thing that today confronts the American people. That they will decide the matter now as they did four years ago there can be no doubt.

But at the same time the menace of Bryanism is in the land, and it is even more dangerous than before.

Disguised behind the straw dummies of militarism and imperialism is the real, the true danger.

Wearing the cloak of dangerous demagoguery the Populist candidate goes about in the land proclaiming evils that do not exist with the purpose of perpetuating upon the country, if elected, the greatest evil that could befall it.

But the people know Mr. Bryan, and they know him well.

His voice is pleasing, like the voice of Jacob, but his hand is the hand of Esau.

A WAY THEY HAVE.

What This East Liverpool Citizen Says Only Corroborates the Story of Thousands.

The particulars related by this representative citizen of East Liverpool are similar to hundreds of others in this city. When there are scores of people, all anxious to tell about the benefits received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills are greatest skeptic in East Liverpool must be convinced. Read this:

Mr. G. H. Garner, the well known manufacturer of ice cream at 168 Jackson street, says: "My trouble set in with a soreness and stiffness over my whole body; my appetite was poor and I was annoyed a good deal with a bloating at the stomach. There was also a urinary difficulty, and I felt, generally used up. I tried two or three different remedies, but they did not do me the least good. Having heard Doan's Kidney Pills so highly spoken of, I made up my mind to try them and I procured a box at W. & W. pharmacy. I did not take over half of it before I was entirely free from any trouble, my appetite good and my old time vigor restored. I recommended them to many of my friends, among them P. J. Green, V. S., and they all speak of them in the highest terms."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Health and Beauty

For generations women have been taught that "beauty is only skin deep," but, like many proverbs, that will not stand. Beauty is blood deep. There can be no beauty without health. Our grandmothers lived closer to nature than we do, and they were so sheltered by their home life that health and beauty were theirs naturally. Skin foods, freckle lotions and face bleaches were unknown commodities. But there has been a great change in the life of women since then. With broader education and larger opportunities, she has developed mentally at the expense of her health. From the quiet duties of home she has gone forth until now we find her in many avocations of life, which prove too great a tax on her vitality. How sad it is to see the cheek robbed of its color and the eye of its fire. These symptoms nearly always show derangements in the delicate feminine organism. They don't call for bleaches or paints or powders, but for a remedy that will make the afflicted organs strong and well. Wine of Cardui is just such a remedy. Women broken in health and spirit have been made healthy and happy by this Wine. No one should give up to the "blues" until this reliable remedy has been tried. It has proven a blessing to other women and will not disappoint you. It brings that buoyancy of spirit, elasticity of step and lightness of heart which is the corner stone of beauty. A healthy woman is always beautiful.

Westville, February 4, 1899.

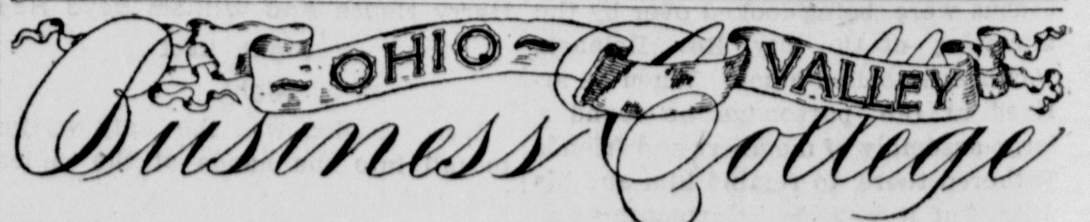

I feel that I must say a few words in praise of the Ladies' greatest friend, Wine of Cardui. It is the most wonderful remedy that I ever tried. I have been a sufferer for years, at times being confined to my bed two or three days each month. A friend recommended Wine of Cardui, and since I have taken it I have been greatly relieved. I intend to continue to take it, for I know it is as recommended. I will use every effort to get others to use it. Mrs. MARY E. COOLEY.

A Woman's Face

Tells its own story. A laugh is often a lie on a woman's lips. It belies the pain which is tearing at the nerves. But the eyes have no part in the laugh. Their purple rings speak of suffering. There are lines too about the mouth which only pain can give. Many women look forward to a week of such misery each month. Three months of each year are given up to suffering. It weakens them. It ages them. It robs them of social pleasures and family joys. Can there be any excuse for such women who fail to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription? It has cured thousands of such sufferers. Cured them perfectly and permanently. It cures ninety-eight out of every hundred who give it a fair and faithful trial. It's sure to help. It's almost sure to cure.

"I had falling of internal organs and had to go to bed every month; had irregular monthly periods which would sometimes last ten or twelve days," writes Mrs. Alice L. Holmes, of Coolspring Street, Uniontown, Pa. "Had indigestion so bad that I could not eat anything hardly. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me."

STAY ON GOLD STANDARD.

"There is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to let his vote for me, because I will tell him it will not be maintained in this country longer than
I am able to hold of it."

This language was used by Hon.
William Jennings Bryan in a speech
at Knoxville on September 16, 1896.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We respectfully call the attention of our agents, and the music-loving public in general, to the fact that certain parties are manufacturing and have placed upon the market a cheap piano, bearing a name so similar to our own (with a slight difference in spelling) that the purchaser may be led to believe that he is purchasing a genuine "Sohmer Piano."

We deem it our duty to those who have been favorably impressed with the fine quality and high reputation of the "Sohmer Piano" to warn them against the possibility of an imposition by unscrupulous dealers or agents. Every genuine "Sohmer Piano" has the above Trade Mark stamped upon the sounding board.

GOOD WORDS.

The News Review is very warmly commended by national, state and county Republican leaders and officials, for good work done during the present campaign. Thank you, gentlemen; we are simply doing our duty as loyal Republicans. It is not only a duty, but a genuine pleasure, as we feel that the industries of the nation at large, demand the election of William McKinley and the entire Republican ticket.

PECULIAR, IS IT NOT.

When you read, if time is not too precious, the report which appeared in a down town paper respecting D. J. Smith's prohibition speech, you will find not one iota of the denunciations which the Prophet of Mount Pisgah hurled against the Democratic party as the party of rum and debauchery. The "latest arrival" in their news gathering department expressed his approval audibly when D. J. scored the Republicans; but when the prophet hit the "unwashed and untrifled," the fresh youngster made himself conspicuous by the dense silence which controlled him. From the standpoint of reliability, the new importation is not a flattering success.

WIDE AWAKE.

There must not be a shadow of lethargy, apathy or indifference, or a feeling of over-confidence, in the present political campaign. Every Republican should be at the polls on election day. And every Democrat who longs for continued prosperity and who desires to handle a dollar which is worth 100 cents on the dollar, and has that purchasing power in the market, should accompany his Republican neighbor, friend, or co-worker, and each cast a vote for McKinley and Roosevelt, sound money and prosperity. Be wide awake. Republicanism needs every vote. The enemy is on the still hunt and will leave no stone unturned in the effort to win success. The silver kings, ice trusts and kindred monopolies are handing over money to the Democracy and to Bryan with a liberal hand, under promises of big returns in case Bryan is elected. Remember that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." Don't take your enemy too cheaply. This measure often results in defeat and disaster. Turn out on election day. Work, work, work; and don't fail to vote. Ballots count.

FROM AKRON

A Correspondent to the Commoner
Writes a Very Interesting Letter.

The new white ware pottery has suspended operations in the clay shop on account of some defect making its appearance in the body of the clay, which will be rectified in a few days, when operations will be resumed. Thomas Clinton, the manager of this new plant, has severed his connection with the company, and general rumor has it that a member of the firm will manage.

National President A. S. Hughes was a visitor in our city for three days last week, endeavoring to arrive at an amicable understanding between the new firm and the members of the N. B. of O. P. upon some very peculiar and intricate problems arising from the attempt to use down draft kilns, and the desire to employ some stone ware potters in the manufacture of white ware, and a few other problems not generally met with in any other pottery. President Hughes' sojourn here was very pleasant, and it is hoped a very profitable one for the members of L. U. No. 30, for he certainly convinced them of some facts in existence in the trade that were known to only a few and our worthy executive's reasoning should bear fruit and enable L. U. No. 30 to grasp the new problems as they present themselves.

EXCITEMENT.

WOMAN THOUGHT SHE GOT THE
WRONG CHANGE.

The Assistant Ticket Agent at the Depot Had Trouble This Morning.

A woman was the cause of no little amusement at the passenger depot this morning. She purchased two tickets for Pittsburg and gave the assistant ticket agent, James Ryan, a five-dollar bill and received her correct change.

She then asked Mr. Ryan if he could change her a ten-dollar bill. He replied that he could and she passed him a five-dollar bill and he told her it was a five and she replied that she knew it. He gave her five one-dollar bills, and after she had counted the money demanded the other five, claiming she had given him a ten-dollar bill and would not leave the station until she got her money. On being informed that she only gave him a five-dollar bill she became excited, and, going out the rear of the depot, struck at Mr. Ryan and called him robber and thief.

She finally discovered she was in the wrong and departed on the train for Pittsburg.

TRADE IS GOOD.

The Volume of Business Shows an Increase Over That of Last September.

China, Glass and Lamps.

Trade conditions have not shown any particular change during the past week. In several instances jobbers are ordering in more liberal quantities, as their requirements demand, but mostly sufficient for nearby necessities. Purchases as a rule, are confined to moderate amounts, which from the frequency of the orders would seem to indicate a fair distribution of goods to consumers. The statement is conservatively made that with all its drawbacks last month has shown a fair percentage of increase in the volume of business over the previous September.

Though nobody is buying in large quantities or placing orders for delivery further ahead than they think they see a chance for early disposal of the goods, manufacturers find their stocks moving off with reasonable promptness and have to keep working steadily to meet the demand and keep up the regular supply of assortments. The demand for the better class of decorated wares is on the increase and more work in this line, and of a higher quality, is being done than ever before.

AN OUTSIDE VIEW.

A Trade Paper Reviews the Trouble at the Goodwin

The Crockery and Glass Journal in speaking of the trouble at the Goodwin pottery says:

The Western Manufacturing association ordered all potteries shut down Friday morning if the Goodwin kilnmen did not resume work at that time. It seems this bumptious local, No. 9, played the Big Indian without any show of authority. It is the National Brotherhood, not any local, that has authority to deal with any individual pottery. Now the kilnmen that were ordered by their local to quit want pay, we understand, for their period of idleness, and No. 9, and not the Brotherhood, seems to be responsible, morally at least. Probably this local will find, after awhile, that their assumption that they can control both the manufacturers and National Brotherhood will have to be abated—that they are working their moderate brain capacity to the verge of collapse.

THE COMING DELEGATES.

The Visitors of the Cincinnati Branch of the Woman's F. M. Society.

The first session will be held at 2 p. m. in the M. E. church on Tuesday next, October 9. Communion service will be held on Tuesday night, with Dr. Clark Crawford officiating. The local lady helpers inform us that places have been prepared for all the coming delegates, and the ladies extend warm thanks to those who have so generously aided them in their efforts in this particular. A very pleasant and profitable time is anticipated at this convention.

ANNUAL CONVENTION

SUBURBAN NEWS.

EAST END.

CAUSED TROUBLE IN THE EAST END

Three People Went to That Part
of the City and Disturbed
the Residents.

CRIP CAIN WAS ARRESTED

He Shied a Stone at Fireman Ed.
Wilson but It Didn't Hit
Him.

HE USED MUCH PROFANITY

"Crip" Cain, accompanied by another man and a woman, came to East End yesterday afternoon bent on having a good time. They had been standing at the Mulberry street crossing for some time when an argument arose. After spending some time in discussing the matter they made their way up the railroad track to a point near the Laughlin pottery. Here they annoyed the residents by their profanity and loud talk, and a message was sent to Station No. 2.

Officer Hamilton and Firemen Ed Wilson responded, but when they arrived only Cain remained, the other members of the party having departed. Cain was in an ugly mood and the officers had a great deal of trouble in rounding him up. "Cup" is noted for his treachery, and when Wilson approached, threw a stone at him, which, had it hit the fireman, would undoubtedly have inflicted some severe injury. Wilson made a foot ball rush and Cain was captured. They were compelled to handle the prisoner pretty roughly before he was made to submit. "Cup" was taken to the fire station and the patrol called. While there Cain continued to abuse the officers in a shameful manner, using the vilest of language, and refusing to regard the officers' repeated requests to keep quiet.

CLOTHES WRINGER

Caused a Very Painful Injury to an East End Boy Yesterday Morning.

A three-year-old son of Howard Taylor, of Maplewood avenue, met with a very bad accident yesterday morning.

The little one's mother was engaged in washing, and had a clothes wringer fastened to a tub. The child in some manner caught its finger in the cogs of the machine and its arm was dragged into the wheel. The boy's hand is terribly mangled and it will be a long time before it recovers from the effects of the injury, if indeed it ever does.

Dr. Mowen reduced the fracture and the little one is getting on as well as possible under the circumstances.

THEY WALKED.

E. J. Owen And Dr. Mowen Waited for a Car That Didn't Come.

A few evenings ago E. J. Owen and Dr. Mowen attended the theater, and after it was out walked up to the corner of Washington and Sixth streets. Here they took a seat to wait until a car came along for East End. They discussed everything under the sun, and still that car didn't come. Street railways were declared no good, and they both wondered what kind of a wreck had taken place. At 12 o'clock they were still on that corner; 1 o'clock arrived and they were still there, but when 2 o'clock appeared they both awoke to the fact that East End cars didn't pass the corner.

If you want to know how many ties there are between East End and the city ask them.

NEW BOXES.

East End Fire Station Can Now be Called in the Regular Way.

Chief Morley and Firemen Terrence and Bettridge yesterday placed five alarm boxes at various places in the East End. Box No. 324, corner Needham street and Riley avenue; No. 326, corner of St. George street and Virginia avenue; No. 332, corner Pennsylvania and First avenues; No. 334, corner Pennsylvania and Martin avenues; No. 342, corner Pallissey street and Cleveland avenue.

The keys to the different boxes will be left at convenient places, so that no time need be lost in sending in an alarm.

The East End department has one more box to place in position, but the location has not been selected as yet.

Entertained Friends.

Miss Louisa Henneman very pleasantly entertained a large party of friends at the residence of Frank Allison, Ohio avenue on Thursday evening. Mr. Harsha furnished some fine selections on the phonograph, and that, together with various other amusements, made up a most enjoyable evening.

Should be Fixed.

Lake's run, between First avenue and Mulberry street, is a disgrace to the community and something should be done at once. A horrible stench permeates the neighborhood, especially during the afternoon and evening.

Attending a Funeral.

Oscar Weitzel, of Ohio avenue, left yesterday for Wheeling, where he will attend the funeral of his father, who died in that city on Thursday.

Secured Work Here.

Alonzo Pig, a carpenter from down the river, arrived in the city yesterday and will work at his trade in the East End.

Improving.

Miss Mina Cochran, who has been ill for some time, is improving.

Personal.

Dr. Mowen is in Smith's Ferry. John G. Greene, of Butler, Pa., is visiting his brother, Rev. J. R. Greene, Pennsylvania avenue.

Mrs. Katherine Stevens and three children left this morning for Pittsburgh, where they will visit Mrs. Stevens' brother, George Henneman.

SOUTH SIDE.

Among the Sick.

John Barkus is ill with cholera morbus.

Samuel Swearingen, who has been ill for some time, is slightly improved.

Mrs. James Lyons, who was reported ill, is improving. She was not in a dangerous condition, as was reported by a local sheet a few days ago.

Orange Jackson is in Liverpool today, where he went to take the place of his brother, who is ill.

Received a Letter.

T. T. Oaks yesterday received a letter from his mother, who lives in Berry, N. C., in answer to an inquiry made by him several days ago. Mr. Oaks has not heard from his home folks in 13 years, and had written for information concerning them.

Hearing the Case.

The case of Mrs. Adam Goppert versus her mother-in-law is being heard this afternoon before Squire Johnson at the residence of his brother, Eph Johnson. Plaintiff is suing to recover possession of a quantity of household furniture.

Ended in a Dispute.

A dispute arose in the ball game between the Independents and Coswins yesterday during the fourth inning and the game was awarded to the Coswins by a score of 9 to 0. Bert Cronin acted as umpire.

He Will Visit.

E. T. Windber, of Hanoverton, will arrive in Chester this evening, where he will visit with the family of Dr. Lewis over Sunday. Mrs. Windber has been in Chester for several days.

A New Position.

Kinsman Baso will leave Monday for Pittsburg, where he has taken a position as motorman on one of the trolley systems in that city.

Started a Foundation.

Work was begun this morning on the foundation of a new house to be erected on Carolina avenue by E. S. Johnson.

Bought the Ice House.

The old ice house north of O. O. Allison's grocery has been rented by James Gibson and is being converted into a stable.

STRIKE CRISIS NEAR.

Up to President Mitchell For a Decision.

HE IS OPPOSED BY HIS ADVISERS.

They Don't Want the Ten Per Cent Offer Accepted, While the President Favors Taking It, and Working For More Concessions Later On.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 6.—The crisis in the coal miners strike is approaching. Both sides are playing a waiting game and each imagine that it has the winning card up its sleeve.

The statement of President Maxwell, of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, that the companies have made all the concessions they propose to make, bears out the statement that the companies would not offer any additional inducements for the men to return to work. The report from Scranton is also significant. It is said that the individual operators will all fall in line and give their employees the 10 per cent increase granted by the big companies. A well known operator said that there was an understanding at the meeting of the representatives of the big companies and the individual operators in this city last Tuesday. According to the understanding the notices of increase were not to be posted all at the same time, but gradually. This part of the program has now been carried out. The companies and nearly all the operators are now in line for a 10 per cent increase.

It is now up with President Mitchell to decide what he is going to do in the matter. If he delays action, with the idea in view that the operators will make a better offer, he is liable to delay a settlement of the strike indefinitely. An analysis of the 10 per cent increase offered shows that the average miner's wages would not be increased 10 per cent should he return to work, but it is argued that it is better than nothing; that it is a victory after all for the strikers; that it is the entering wedge, and that if the United Mine Workers keep their organization intact, they can compel the operators to make further concessions in the years to come.

It is said that President Mitchell takes this same view of the situation himself. And it is only natural that he should. If the strikers accept the offer of 10 per cent increase, then it is a victory for Mitchell. If they do not accept it and the strike is fought to a finish and the men beaten in the end, it will be a defeat for the leader of the miners. It is known, however, that some of President Mitchell's advisers are against settlement on the 10 per cent basis. They argue that the companies will do better. But Mitchell says nay. It now remains to be seen who will win, Mitchell or his cabinet.

Hazleton, Oct. 6.—A Pardee & company, operating the Cranberry and the Crystal Ridge mines and employing about 1,000 men, posted a notice at its collieries of an advance of 10 per cent in wages. The notice reads:

"This company makes the following announcement to its mine employees: 'It will adjust its rate of wages so as to pay to its mine employees on and after October 1, and until further notice, a net increase of 10 per cent on the wages heretofore received.'

Note—It is understood in the foregoing that powder will be sold to miners for $1.50 per keg and that the difference between this rate and the old rate of $2.75 shall be taken into account in figuring the net advance of 10 per cent noted above for this class of work. (Signed)

"A. Pardee & Company."

This is the first individual operator in the Lehigh region that has granted this advance and it is believed to indicate that all of the individual operators have agreed to pay the advance.

A meeting was held in Pardee's office of the general superintendents of all the individual collieries in this region. It is not known what action was taken, but it is believed they discussed the question of posting similar notices at all collieries.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 6.—According to statement of President T. H. Watson of the committee which went to work to demand better tolls for individual operators, the latter will, in connection with the big companies in the notices of the 10 per cent offer, which it is hoped to end the strike.

The announcement was made at the conclusion of a meeting of the individual operators held in two sections simultaneously in this city, and in Hazleton, the Lackawanna and Wyoming. The men met in Mr. Watkins' office and the Lehigh valley men met in the office of the committee on Wednesday. It has been able to do in the way of making concessions from the carrying companies. Mr. Watkins, R. G. Brooks and M. S. Kemmerer reported to the Scranton meeting. Dr. Howe and Mr. Pardee reported at Hazleton.

There were present at the Scranton meeting representatives of nearly all the mining companies concerned in the two valleys.

The Delaware and Hudson, Pennsylvania and New York, Ontario and Western coal departments were not represented. They have declared though that they would fall in line if the others was accepted. E. L. Fuller, Fuller Coal company, said he did not know whether or not he would post the notices, but supposed he would join in the offer if it was accepted.

What impelled the individual operators to call off their revolt was not given out. Mr. Watkins said the committee had not secured any concessions from the carriers, but he left it to be inferred that he was advised in a roundabout way that the individual operators would not be made to suffer from being called upon to grant increased wages, to help the big companies settle the strike.

DISPOSES OF MILLIONS.

Will of A. M. Byers Ailed For Probate. Requests to Wife and Children and Relatives.

Pittsburg, Oct. 6.—The will of the late Alexander M. Byers was filed for probate by Attorney D. T. Watson. The actual value of the estate is not estimated in the application for letters of administration. The bond is for $2,000,000, and guarantees that J. D. Lyon and Dallas C. Byers will faithfully perform their duties as administrators.

The will was made April 28, 1892, and witnessed by Attorney Watson, George P. Graver and L. H. Matthews. The testator, by his will, appointed J. D. Layng, E. M. Byers, his brother, now deceased, and Martha F. Byers, widow of the testator, executors. Owing to the death of Mr. Byers and other causes Mrs. Byers and Mr. Layng renounced their right to letters testamentary and the heirs of the estate agreed that letters of administration cum testamento annexo should issue to the persons already named.

The trustees are authorized to carry on the business of the firm of A. M. Byers & Co. as well as the individual business of the Girard Iron company until his youngest son, Frederick Byers, arrives at the age of 21. The trustees are to receive the entire income from the estate, as well as his share of the net profits of A. M. Byers & Co., and all of the profits of the Girard Iron company. The trustees are to pay in quarterly installments $50,000 every year to the wife of the testator for her maintenance and the keeping up of the home until the youngest son is of legal age.

As the sons become of age he directs that such of them as desire may be employed in some suitable capacity in the business of A. M. Byers & Co. or the Girard Iron company, their salaries until they become of age to be fixed at $5,000 yearly. Those sons who may not desire to enter the employment of one of these two concerns, when they reach legal age, are to receive the sum of $2,000 yearly. With regard to his daughter, Maud, the will states that if she is not married at the time of his death, she is to receive from the trustees her trousseau, the furnishings of her house, the sum of $25,000, and if the mother thinks it is necessary, the trustees are to increase this sum to $30,000. From the time of her marriage until the youngest son is of legal age the trustees are to pay her yearly, in quarterly installments, $10,000 for her support and maintenance, and if she thinks this is not enough, and her mother agrees with her, this sum is to be increased to $15,000.

If any of the sons marry before the legal age of the youngest, the trustees shall pay to them $10,000 for their marriage expenses and furnishings of their homes, and their salaries shall be increased to $10,000 a year, while any son not in the employ of the father's business shall have his allowance increased to $4,000.

The revenues of certain investments are left to certain relatives. It is provided that his brother, Samuel Byers, of Greenfield, Mercer county, is to receive $1,500 a year salary, if employed in any of the testator's concerns, if not, he is to receive $1,000 a year.

The testator directs that should his daughter, Maud, marry and leave surviving her a husband, she may by will, whether she leaves children or not, give him not to exceed a one-fourth value of her trust estate.

A conservative estimate of the estate is said to be $6,000,000 to $7,000,000.

Condemned Great Britain's Policy.

Cape Town, Oct. 6.—The presbytery of the Dutch Reformed church, by a vote of 23 against 4, adopted a resolution strongly condemning Great Britain's policy in South Africa.

CRAZY WOMAN'S DEED

Killed Two Children; Attempted Third Life.

SHE THEN COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Child In Hospital May Die—Drove Her Husband to Train in the Morning—Sent Servants For a Drive, While She Committed Bloody Deed.

New York, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Lillian Smith, of Inwood, borough of Manhattan, while insane, shot her two children, Ethel, aged 12 years, and Theodore, aged 8 years, and then committed suicide by shooting herself. Another child lies in Fordham hospital at the point of death as the result of carbolic acid burns. Before shooting the children Mrs. Smith, with the cunning of a maniac, tried to force them to drink carbolic acid. Long brooding over the prospect of death is said to have been the cause of the woman's insanity.

Mrs. Smith was the wife of Walter M. Smith, who has been connected with the grocery house of Austin, Nichols & Co., for 21 years. Up to three weeks ago she had lived with her husband and her children in the central portion of this city, but of late she had been in poor health. It became necessary to take her to the country and Mr. Smith rented a large old mansion formerly occupied by the late Frank Leslie, the publisher, at Inwood.

She drove her husband to the station in the morning and appeared happy and care free. She promised to meet him on his return from the city at night. It is believed that she went out in the morning after her return from the drive to the train with her husband and bought the pistol. Where and when she bought the carbolic acid is a mystery. With the pistol she bought a box of cartridges. Ten of these were missing from the box when it was found. In the pistol were found three discharged cartridges and two loaded. In the attempt to wipe out her family it is believed Mrs. Smith fired eight shots, all but two of which took effect.

During the course of the afternoon Mrs. Smith instructed her coachman, a man named Moore, to hitch up the team and take his wife, also a servant of the Smiths, for a ride on the speedway. The Moores returned and were met by Mrs. Smith at the door. The woman was only partly clothed, but she did not seem to be agitated.

"Don't come in yet," she said with a smile; "take a long ride. There is plenty of time in the afternoon."

The Moores again went away, but they did not stay long. They returned later and discovered the tragedy that had been enacted in their absence.

Mrs. Smith left two letters. One was addressed to her husband and read:

"Dear Walter—I am responsible for what has happened. I am very sorry, but can find no other way."

"Lillian."

The other letter was to her father. It was not made public.

IN JUSTICE GREEN'S MEMORY

Judge and Lawyers Paid Respects. Minute Was Spread on the Court Record.

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—The rooms of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, in the city hall, over which the late Henry D. Green, chief justice, presided for the last year, and in which he sat on the bench for nearly a score of years, were crowded by his former associates, both on the bench and in the legal fraternity, who assembled for the purpose of honoring his name and having spread upon the records of the court a testimonial expressing the high esteem in which the late chief justice had been held.

The meeting was presided over by Chief Justice McCollum. Judge Kirkpatrick, of the common pleas court, of Easton, delivered a brief eulogy and presented a minute which he asked be spread upon the records of the court.

The minute reviewed the late chief justice's career on the bench and after being read by the prothonotary was adopted and ordered spread upon the records.

Chief Justice McCollum, being the oldest member of the court and the lifelong friend of his distinguished predecessor and chief replied to the remarks of Justice Kirkpatrick and paid a loving tribute to the memory of Chief Justice Green.

ROOSEVELT IS GETTING TIRED.

May Be Unable to Last Out Campaign, Unless Relieved.

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 6.—Governor Roosevelt, who spoke in this city, is beginning to feel the effects of the arduous work undertaken by him at the request of the Republican campaign managers. If some relief is not afforded his physical powers, though great, and his courage undaunted, he may be unable to last to the end of the campaign. It has even now been suggested that all his eastern engagements be postponed for one week. This matter will be determined by the national committee on the arrival of Governor Roosevelt in Chicago tonight.

HURT EASTERN BUSINESS.

But Failure to Settle Strike Apparently Had No Effect West and South. The Failures.

New York, Oct. 6.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade today said in part: The anthracite coal settlement has been delayed another week, and the effect upon business in the east is more apparent, though distribution in the west and south seems no less active. Seasonable weather in the east would quickly aid matters. Prices are slightly lower in iron, wool, coal and sugar, but the produce and textile markets are firm and in all departments of business an effort by distributors to increase transactions would quickly advance prices. There is little ordering ahead in any kind of merchandise, but steel rail makers look for contracts for about 2,000,000 tons after election. Rain is needed in the south and on the North Atlantic coast, but in the southwest rains have checked cotton picking.

The most interesting financial development was the further drop of one cent in sterling exchange, completing a decline of two cents in two weeks, without any important change in our money market. At the same time London rates for discounts have strengthened materially, though the Bank of England made no change in its rate, in which an advance had been expected. Heavy foreign buying of cotton has outweighed all other influences, and there is insufficient demand for regular remittance to absorb commodity.

Most manufacturing concerns are delaying extensive production until after election, and are buying little raw material. Pig iron has declined on small orders, and was also depressed by the cut in southern freight rates. Finished material and structural lines are steady, and export buying does much to prevent dullness. Contracts for cars, bridges and plates for ship building were signed during the week, and rails were sold at $26 to domestic roads, while a small amount was taken by Italy. Sales of wool at the three chief eastern markets were 3,417,265 pounds, exceeding every week since August, but still insignificant compared with last year, and Coates Bros.' average price of 100 grades on October 1 was 19.64 cents, against 20.37 Sept. 1.

Wheat is steady. For the week Atlantic exports were 3,252,994 bushels, flour included, against 3,562,062 in 1899. After the end of September there was a decline in the price of corn for the current month's delivery, but elevator prices remained firm, and receipts for the week were only 4,840,002 bushels, against 7,679,540 last year, while Atlantic exports were 2,144,610 bushels, against 2,992,232 a year ago. Lower stocks at Chicago caused a sharp rise in prices of pork products.

Failures for the week were 208 in the United States against 134 last year, and 23 in Canada against 20 last year.

STEEL AND IRON STOCKS ACTIVE.

Stock Market Showed Effects of Professional Operations.

New York, Oct. 6.—The stock market continued to show the effects of professional operations for the advance Friday. New points of strength developed under the shifting operations of the bull party and the sustaining influence thus afforded was taken advantage of to realize in stocks which have already had their advance. Distinction was thus made even in stocks of the same group as, for instance, in the steel and iron group, where National Steel and Tin Plate, which have had their notable advance, hung back while other members of the group were pushed forward. Even Tennessee Coal, after an opening jump of 2 points under the stimulus of the surprised short covering, dragged behind the others. It was pulled up in sympathy with the general rise, but closed with a small net loss. The buying of Steel and Wire was the most conspicuous, and lifted the stock at one time 2 1/4. Directors of the company were quoted as expressing the belief that persons who sold out last spring when the radical cut was made in prices of the product are trying to buy back their stock. A number of the steel stocks saved a net gain of over a point. In the railroad list there was the same disposition manifest to take up new stocks for the advance, and those were selected for which the borrowing demand indicates that there has been a large short interest. Baltimore and Ohio, Northern Pacific, Missouri Pacific, and Burlington are in this class. There was conspicuous buying of Pennsylvania and rumors were revived, such as were heard when the vast proportions of the year's earnings first began to be understood, of an increase in the dividend rate. Gossip on the stock exchange attributed the buying to the same interests which were active in the previous movement. Some strength was shown by Sugar, People's Gas and Brooklyn Transit, in all of which dealings were large, but the tone was feverish and irregular. The market closed rather heavy and at substantial reactions from the best. Today's money market continued firm, and sterling exchange reacted while discounts were easier in London.

The bond market continues irregular on a small volume of dealings. Total sales, par value, $1,130,000.

United States bonds unchanged on the late call.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Wheat was irregular Friday, but turned firm toward the end on good cash demand and in sympathy with the strength of October pork. November closed 1/8c over Thursday. Corn closed unchanged, oats 1/8c lower and provisions for January delivery 2 1/4c to 15c higher. October pork closed $1.40 higher.

THEY DODGED.

BRYAN'S COMMITTEE NEVER REPORTED ON TRUST QUESTION.

Democrats Can Not Successfully Defend Their Record of Inaction, and of Opposition to the Proposed Amendment to the National Constitution.

No report was ever made to congress on the trust question by the house committee of which William J. Bryan was a member, to which that question was referred. Any report and affirmative proposition, in the way of either a bill or a constitutional amendment, both of which were prepared and submitted at the recent session by the Republicans of the house judiciary committee, would be to do something instead of talk, while Mr. Bryan's forte is in talking instead of doing. As a Democrat, undoubtedly he stands with his party in its expressed opposition, shown by the votes of every member but five, against the constitutional amendment that would give congress just the power now lacking in the constitution, according to the United States supreme court, when the Republican attorney general undertook to suppress the sugar trust, but was told by Chief Justice Fuller that the constitution does not touch manufactures at all, but only commerce between the states. It was a Democratic house committee on judiciary that first announced this position, now confirmed by the highest court. Nothing but a constitutional amendment can cure it, and the Bryanites oppose that solely because it might interfere with their same old secession state's rights.

Not even in the states, though, have the Bryan Democracy done what they might on the trust question, for more Republican states have strong statutes upon this subject than have Democratic states. The first state of all to enact a statute against trusts was that steadfast Republican commonwealth of Maine, whose statute of 1889 was of most sweeping character. It was Maine, too, that refused to grant a charter recently to the Tammany Ice Trust in New York. It is Massachusetts, a state with the legislature controlled by the Republicans for 40 years, that is one of the few states in the Union where it is impossible to organize a trust, and its laws are far in advance of any Democratic state in this respect.

The first federal law against combinations was the Cullom interstate commerce act of 1888,—a Republican measure to control the railroads. The first actual law against trusts in general was the Republican Sherman act, pronounced by a Democratic judiciary committee as "skillfully drawn to cover the authority delegated to the federal government." The first presidential declaration against trusts was by a Republican president, Harrison. The first national platform declaration by a great party against them with any suggestion of remedy was the Republican plank of 1888, written by William McKinley, now president of the United States. These records are the best test.

BUSINESS PROVISIO.

Houses Are Stipulating, "Void if Bryan Is Elected."

"Void if Bryan is elected," is a proviso, in substance, that a good many business houses in the east and west are putting into their contracts just now. A number of concerns have been named that make this significant condition, but the biggest of all is Tammany Hall. This king bee among all Democratic organizations, in its capacity of control of the city of New York, has recently inserted this very condition in contracts just made between the city and a bridge company, covering a large transaction and a long period. The stipulation is explicit that the agreement shall be null and void in case of Bryan's election. That is Tammany talking business, and it is the same Tammany without which, and its Boss Croker, Bryan has not a ghost of a chance of election. This incident only proves the truth of the New York Journal of Commerce remark that there is "an unmistakable disposition to defer all business that can be put off until the votes are counted and even small chance disappears." Does any man imagine for a minute that there would be the slightest hesitation or delay if there were an absolute certainty of McKinley's election and that of a Republican congress?

JOHNSTOWN CELEBRATES.

Many Visitors at the Centennial—Governor Stone Laid Cornerstone of City Building.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 6.—The first day of Johnstown's centennial celebration found the city overflowing with visitors and enthusiasm reigned supreme. The weather was all that could be desired, the sun shining brightly nearly all day. Never before in the history of Johnstown have the decorations been so pretty and so elaborate. A number of electric lights helped at night.

The streets were densely packed with people at 9 o'clock in the morning, when the fantastic parade, the first event of the celebration, took place. This parade, the feature of which was a "rube" band of 60 pieces, furnished much amusement.

Shortly after 5 o'clock in the afternoon Governor Stone, accompanied by his staff, arrived and were driven to the site of the new municipal building where the governor, who was enthusiastically greeted by the 15,000 people present, made a brief address and laid the cornerstone. Speeches were also delivered by ex-Governor Hastings, Mayor Woodruff, and Judge A. V. Barker, of Cambria county, all of which dealt with local and historical matters. Music was furnished by a children's chorus of 1,200 voices. The children were arranged on a large stand, each was furnished with flags and they presented an inspiring sight.

Last night an illuminated bicycle parade furnished amusement for the thousands who packed the streets. There was also a patriotic massmeeting in the Johnstown opera house, which was largely attended. Historical addresses were made by local speakers and patriotic music furnished by a mass chorus of 250 voices.

VICTIM OF RIOT DIED.

Women Stoned Workers, on the Way From Mines.

Shenandoah, Pa., Oct. 6.—Edward Doyle, a miner, aged 50 years, one of the victims of the riot here two weeks ago, died. While the riot was in progress Mr. Doyle left his home to look after the safety of his children, when a stray bullet struck him below the heart. A widow and large family survive him.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 6.—Eight Italians, employed on the night shift of the Calvin Pardee & Co. colliery at Lattimer, were attacked by 25 women who had marched from Milnesville. The women were mostly Hungarians and Italians. They left Milnesville at 4 o'clock, marched through Lattimer, two miles distant, and waited to attack the men working in the Lattimer mine as they passed along the road which leads to their homes at Hollywood.

Italians saw the women on the road ahead of them, and fearing an attack, crossed the field to avoid them. The women, however, also crossed the field and, overtaking the men, hurled showers of stones at them. The workmen did not attempt to defend themselves, but ran away and were soon out of the reach of the fury of the excited women.

One man received a severe cut on the head, while several of the others were struck by pieces of rock, but were not injured.

Some of the foreigners are beginning to show an ugly disposition. They are seen in greater numbers on the highways, and as some of them carry clubs, a collision between them and the coal and iron police may occur at almost any time.

KILLED HIS SON-IN-LAW.

Thomas Workman Shot M. F. Dryden For Abusing His Wife, at Wheeling.

Wheeling, Oct. 6.—M. F. Dryden, a prominent lawyer, and former pastor of the North Street Methodist Episcopal church, in this city, was shot and instantly killed by Thomas Workman, his father-in-law. Dryden has had the reputation of abusing his wife for years while under the influence of drink.

In the evening Dryden was drunk and quarreled with his wife. During the night he became sick and Mr. Workman went for medicine. When he returned he found Dryden choking his wife. Workman shot him without waiting for any further developments. Workman is highly thought of here. He surrendered to the police.

Up to September 14 over $332,000,000 of United States bonds were refunded at lower interest under the new Republican law, with a net saving in interest in each year of $8,418,205. Bryanism would spoil all that.

"MILITARISM."

MR BRYAN'S MISREPRESENTATIONS OF THE ARMY BILL.

It Was Passed After Aguinaldo's Rebellion Had Broken Out, and Was Adopted by a Majority Which Included Many Patriotic Democrats.

"A Republican house of representatives formed to do his (McKinley's) bidding passed a bill" for the army increase to 100,000 men, is Bryan's identical language in a recent speech about the "large military establishment." The record shows that the increase was reported by the entire military committee of the senate, Democrats and Populists included, and that the senate voted for it 55 to 13, including all the leading Democrats and every Populist but one. In the house the vote was 203 to 32 in favor of it—proof that most of the Democrats and Populists supported this measure, which Bryan attributes to a Republican house of representatives, as if it were partisan in place of patriotic.

One more misstatement, either through ignorance or intent, in the same brief paragraph, is Mr. Bryan's statement that "this was done after the treaty of peace was signed and before hostilities broke out in Manila." Every school boy in America knows that "hostilities broke out in Manila" on February 4, 1899, with the first shots from Bryan's friend Aguinaldo, while it is the official record that the increase of the army was made upon a bill not reported to the senate until February 24, acted upon after that date in that body, and still later by the house. Thus several weeks had passed after "hostilities broke out in Manila." Is Bryan ignorant of these everyday facts, or can't he tell the truth about them?

"Why did we need such an army," he asks? During the two full days' debate in the senate it was well known and stated over again, that the main purpose of this authority given to the president was to use the forces thus created to suppress the insurrection in the Philippines and to maintain American sovereignty. The same position was taken in the house as well; and in both bodies many Democrats who favored the bill argued that the United States having acquired sovereignty, under the treaty which Bryan did so much to ratify, they were constrained as a matter of public duty, to give the president the necessary power to suppress the existing rebellion, in order that the honor and credit of the American nation might be upheld and its authority fully sustained. That's "why we need such an army," Mr. Bryan, and you know it well enough if you would tell the truth.

SAVINGS BANKS.

Deposits and Number of Depositors Are an Index of Prosperity.

When we have good times, the workingmen save money and put it into savings banks. When dull times come, much of this money has to be drawn out to meet current expenses. Hence, there is no more certain index of the financial condition of the working class than the reports of the savings banks.

The comptroller of the currency at Washington has tabulated the figures of all the savings banks of the country for the fiscal year ended June 30 last, and for the preceding year. A comparison of the totals of the two sets of figures shows that the increase in deposits last year exceeded $200,000,000, while the number of depositors increased from 5,687,818 to 6,202,779, a gain of 514,961.

The total deposits at this time aggregate $2,430,561,290. That the depositors are working people is shown by the average deposits being but $391.85. The gain in deposits and in the number of depositors is not confined to any section, as the following table of gains will show:

MIDDLE WEST.
Gain in total deposits.....$68,733,291
Gain in number of depositors.....207,545
EASTERN STATES.
Gain in total deposits.....$84,221,712
Gain in number of depositors.....145,187
NEW ENGLAND.
Gain in total deposits.....$45,260,818

Gain in number of depositors 123,795
SOUTHERN STATES.
Gain in total deposits.....$ 2,841,423
Gain in number of depositors.....4,956

These people are naturally interested in the preservation of the present prosperity. Hence they will not vote for Bryan and free silver, which they know will bring on another panic like that of 1893. All of the Nebraskan's wild vaporings about imperialism will not change this determination.

TWO PISTOL SHOTS WERE HEARD.

Strikers Attacked Workmen—Fled From the Sheriff.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 6.—Another attack was made on the mine workers employed in the Lattimer mines. About 50 of the men, while being conveyed to their homes at Hollywood in a railroad car drawn by a mine engine they were attacked by about 100 strikers. Stones and rocks were thrown at the men in the car and two of the workmen were severely cut about the head. Sheriff Harvey, who was on the car, ordered the engineer to stop, and as he and a few deputies stepped from the coach, the attacking party scattered in all directions. Two pistol shots were heard, but which side fired them is not known.

A SOLDIER SENTENCED TO BE SHOT.

Commuted by President McKinley—Culprit Committed Criminal Assault.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Private Frank Mills, Company I, Twenty-third infantry, was convicted by court martial at Cebu, P. I., on the charge of criminal assault and sentenced to be "shot to death with musketry." The case having been submitted to the president for his action, he commuted the sentence to "dishonorable discharge, forfeiture of all pay and allowance and confined at hard labor in a penitentiary for the period of 20 years."

The penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., has been designated by the war department as the place of confinement.

BRYAN IN GAS BELT.

Well Received in a Republican Stronghold of Indiana—Spoke Monday on Trusts.

Anderson, Ind., Oct. 6.—The meeting which closed here last night was the last of a series of remarkably large political demonstrations made in connection with the appearance in Indiana of Hon. W. J. Bryan, the Democratic candidate. Mr. Bryan left Indianapolis with the intention of visiting during the day as many places as possible, in what is known as the gas belt of the state, and in pursuance of that purpose, he almost circled the city of Indianapolis, visiting no fewer than nine counties and making an even dozen speeches. The speeches were made in succession at Noblesville, Arcadia, Winchester, Richmond, New Castle and Anderson. A majority of these places are important manufacturing centers, and all the communities traversed are considered Republican in politics. They could not, however, have given the Democratic candidate a more cordial reception than they extended, if the sentiment had been pronounced for him. There were immense outpourings at all the towns visited and no interruption indicative of pronounced opposition occurred. On the contrary, there was at most places much enthusiasm manifested by Mr. Bryan's supporters. Trusts formed the subject of most of the speeches of the day, but at Richmond Mr. Bryan devoted all his time to imperialism.

The presiding officer at the Richmond meeting was Hon. Henry U. Johnson, formerly a prominent member of congress and until recently a pronounced Republican. Mr. Bryan defended Johnson's action in quitting his party.

QUAY SPOKE AT TITUSVILLE.

The Ex-Senator Well Received—Big Parade Was Held.

Titusville, Pa., Oct. 6.—Colonel M. S. Quay, Attorney General Elkin and party addressed an immense mass-meeting here, under the auspices of the McKinley and Roosevelt club. Speeches were made by Colonel Quay, Attorney General Elkin, Lincoln J. Eyre, of Philadelphia; Major Alex. McDowell, of Sharon, chief clerk of the house of representatives; Hon. W. H. Fairless, of Virginia, and Hon. A. L. Bates, of Meadville, Republican candidate for congress in this district.

Previous to the meeting a big parade was held. Quay was well received, many Republicans from the adjoining country being present at the meeting, which was highly successful.

A MODEL PLANT.

That is What a Trade Paper Calls the Taylor, Lee & Smith Pottery.

In speaking of the Taylor, Lee & Smith pottery, China, Glass and Lamps says:

The Taylor, Lee & Smith company's new pottery at Chester, W. Va., is, perhaps, the latest and best equipped pottery in the country. They will begin making ware at once and will have the first kiln of ware in about 10 days or two weeks. They start off with nine kilns, four large decorating kilns, five glost and four biscuit kilns and room enough reserved for nine more kilns, with machinery now installed to take care of the increased output and a small addition. In building their pottery every new device that could be thought of toward making an improved modern pottery has been taken advantage of. There is not a hanger for shafting or anything attached to the ceiling throughout the entire plant, consequently there will be no shaking of floors. Everything has been done to make it a model plant.

THE IRON-WORKERS.

Youngstown's Eight Thousand Men Are at Work.

DEMOCRATIC SLANDER SHOWN UP

Men Are All Satisfied With the Schedule—Futile Efforts to Inject Politics Into a Purely Business Matter Resented by President Shaffer.

Youngstown has a right to rejoice, with 8,000 men put to work in her iron and steel mills by the agreement between the manufacturers and the amalgamated association upon a new wage-scale for the year to come. This restores full activity to 60,000 men in that single industry, and the better part of it is that, throughout the negotiations of several months, both employers and employed maintained the most friendly relations, and all alike rejoiced when a result was reached in harmony and with reasonable fairness to both sides.

While the men did not get all that they asked, the manufacturers claim that the new scale provides for higher wages than any previous one when the selling price of iron was as low as it is now, and figure that the puddlers are to receive 20 per cent. advance over the wages of 1898, and the men in the finishing mills 15 per cent. more. How wrong, then, is the attempt to inject politics into this wage-settlement affecting the industries of such a vast army of wage-earners, that some of the Democratic papers have made. The men themselves are greatly rejoiced over the signing of the schedule, and say it is absurd to suppose that it was not the very best adjustment that could be had.

Organized labor cannot furnish a witness more widely acceptable within its own ranks than Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of labor, who said at Cincinnati, where the scale was signed:

"I, in common with all organized labor, will believe that it was the best obtainable under existing conditions. The officers of the association have a great and powerful organization back of them, and it is not reasonable to suppose that they would take less than they conceive they are justly entitled to."

Another Democratic attempt to inject politics into this purely business matter was made by the Youngstown Democratic organ, in a statement that President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, who "is a Democrat and has always been a Democrat, will vote for Bryan at the November election, because he believes that he is the friend of the workingmen, and that he will represent them fairly and honestly." Mr. Shaffer had left his Youngstown home when this was published, and when asked about it by a Cincinnati reporter, thus learning of it, he made this emphatic reply:

"It is an outrage that my name is used so recklessly. I have never at any time stated that I was a Bryan sympathizer; that I would vote for him because he is the friend of labor, etc., but, on the contrary, I have stated that I AM A REPUBLICAN AND WILL VOTE FOR M'KINLEY. As president of the association of steel workers I do not intend exercising any prestige that I may have by reason

GRANT'S GRANDSON

Makes a Neat Point on Bryan's Resignation From the Army.

A neat point was brought out recently in a speech at Hagerstown, Md., by Captain Sartoris, grandson of General Grant. He tells that when Bryan resigned as colonel of the Third Nebraska, upon the regiment being ordered to Cuba, the Nebraskan remarked to his superior officer:

"I think that I can be of more use to my country as a citizen than as a soldier."

"Well," said the adjutant general, who knows that Bryan did not shine as a soldier, "I believe there is even some question as to that!"

The very apt comment is made upon this that "if Colonel Bryan had not the executive ability to command 1,000 men properly, how can he expect to be head, not only of an army of nearly 100,000 and a navy, but of 80,000,000 American citizens?"

A GERMAN OPINION.

Bryan's reiteration in his acceptance letter of the 16 to 1 silver absurdity, has angered the Indianapolis German Telegraph, the state organ of the German Democrats of Indiana. Editorially it flays him alive, complaining among other things of a "campaign management incapable beyond expression," and saying:

"Mr. Bryan knows, or should know, that the Democratic party was defeated four years ago on the money issue alone, and if he prides himself on not changing his views, he may discover on November 6 that the majority of the American people have not changed their views, either."

ONE GOOD POINT.

John Barrett, so long American minister to Siam by Democratic appointment, and an expert in the eastern question, makes a good point in this. "When they tell you that we have already spent $100,000,000 and the lives of many in the Philippines, you tell them what I say now, that it would cost us millions and millions of dollars and the lives of hundreds of thousands to reclaim the prestige we would lose in the Pacific and in the whole world were we to depart now from the islands and leave undone our duties and run away from our responsibilities."

MONEY FOR CROPS.

An average of the estimates by experts upon the crops of the country indicates an output for the present year of over 500,000,000 bushels of wheat, nearly 800,000,000 bushels of oats, and fully 2,000,000,000 bushels of corn. What kind of money do the producers of this vast agricultural wealth wish for their crops—100-cent dollars or 45-cent dollars, McKinley money or Bryan promises to pay, genuine gold or silver at 16-to-1 for the mine owner and somewhere near 40 to 1 for the farmer?

A part of the curious list of Lady Littleton's wedding outfit 200 years ago is as follows: "A black paddyway gown and coat, a pink unwatered pabby sute of cloaths, a gold stuff sute of cloaths, a white worked with sneal sute of cloaths."

THIS IS A MAN'S METHOD.

His Way of Making a Carpet Bargain While His Wife Was Away.

"I want both my upper and lower halls recarpeted," was the remark Charles J. Jones of East Walnut Hills made to a well known carpet man. "And I'm going to move out of the house until you finish the work! I'll leave the choice and color to you! My wife is out of town, you see, and I want to surprise her upon her return. There is only one condition to this bargain—I must ask you, as we are old friends, to give me a small figure in the carpet."

"All right!" said the carpet man.

And Charles Jones staid away from home for two days, while the carpet man's hirelings banged away with their hammers, and he hugged himself as he thought of the surprise that was in store for his wife when she returned. Last Thursday the carpet man called Jones up by telephone and announced that the carpet was laid.

"It's a dark green!" said the carpet man.

"I'm glad of that!" answered Jones.

"And as small a figure as is consistent with the carpet?" roared the carpet man.

"I'm gladder than ever!" said Jones.

That evening he visited his home and was satisfied that the carpet was a peach. The next morning he met the carpet man.

"How much do I owe you?" inquired Jones.

"It is $98.65," said the carpet dealer.

"What!" yelled Jones. "Where's the small figure you and I agreed on?"

"Why, on the border of the carpet!" said the amazed dealer. "It's a morning glory vine with pink and white flowers! You've got a bargain at that figure!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

HOME LIFE ON THE WANE.

English Hostesses Accused of Being Perpetual Gadabouts.

Slowly, but surely, the pride the English hostesses took in their home, in their reputation for hospitality and in their ability to plan pleasant little entertainments for their friends is passing away. The smart young hostess no longer cares to welcome her guests among her Lares and Penates; it is no longer her earnest desire to display her housewifely genius; no longer her ambition to shine as a "clever little woman who so thoroughly understands just what every one likes."

There are too many irons in society's fire to look after nowadays for her to fritter away time in this fashion. Moreover, people want incessant novelty; they are bored with even good menus, they tire of certain surroundings, they must have everything a little in advance, and as little as possible like anything that obtained a decade, to say nothing of two decades, ago. Thus it is we rush with our friends in unhome-like fashion from restaurant to restaurant, like bona fide travelers; thus it is we inhospitably, one might almost venture to say meanly, ask our friends to share expenses with us in the little pleasures we should once have offered them. The commercial spirit is indeed rampant in us in this advanced age. One almost dreads to think what next must be sacrificed to it and what will be the home life and the English house-mother of the next generation.—Ladies' Pictorial.
